Despite weather, run draws a crowd

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

Considering what Mother Nature threw at her, Dawn Heying was more than pleased with the turnout for the second annual Their Fight Is Our Fight 5K run/walk.

The event began last year as a way to remember Heying's daughter, Brittney, who died from suicide in July 2020 and raises money for both suicide prevention and mental health awareness.

And while the number of runners didn't approach the inaugural event held in 2021, Heying estimated that more than 200 residents turned out for the event, including 150 runners and walkers.

The event also included a silent auction and a meal.

"Obviously, it would have been nice to have a nice sunny, warm day," Heying said, "but considering it rained during the day and it was pretty chilly, we're pretty happy with the number of people who turned out."

She said this year's event raised more than $17,000, and like last year, that money will be put to use in a variety of ways — including providing scholarships to those entering the mental health field, helping families who are struggling with mental health issues and, if possible, helping to bring speakers to the area to discuss suicide prevention and mental health awareness.

On Friday night, Everybody Hurts, the non-profit group Heying helped start and that puts on the annual race, also brought in guest speakers.

One of those included Ryan Nesbit, a Jesup man who puts on the Alive and Running event in Dunkerton.

"Please remember that we are part of a family, we've all been touched by suicide," he said. "It's a family we never wanted to be a part of, but at the same time, if we work together, stay together, we can help so many people."

And it was a message that warmed Heying's heart.

"Since Brittney's death, I've been reminded so often of what we can do when we come together. Look at this event. We have so many people unite — people of all ages and backgrounds — to take on this fight."

County has two vacancies on Veterans Commission

with Hackman, but he also said that he didn't believe the issue was the service officer's salary.

"I don't think it's the pay," he said, "especially with what we did a couple of months ago. If you look at the [pay of other county's service officers], we do pretty well."

The Veterans Commission agreed to bump Bierman's salary from $31,050 to $42,240 in February after it learned she had been offered a similar job in Bremer County. That led to the supervisors agreeing to increase the commission's budget as part of a budget amendment that was approved during Monday's meeting.

When supervisors agreed to go ahead with the budget amendment during a Feb. 14 meeting, Bierman was asked if the pay raise would keep her in the county and she replied, "Yes, absolutely."

But on Monday, she said the chance to move to work in Des Moines for the federal agency was too good to pass up.

"My family's down there, and it's a great opportunity for me," she said. "I didn't see this coming, but to have a chance like this, it was an opportunity I couldn't pass up."

Asked what she will miss most about her current position, Bierman, who will work her last day in Chickasaw County on March 13, had a quick answer.

"Definitely my veterans," she said. "They're the reason I loved my job so much, and they're the reason it's so hard to leave, but I'm still going to be helping veterans in my new job and I'm excited about that."

Kuehn, meanwhile, told supervisors the commission is hoping to move quickly hiring Bierman's replacement. In one sense, it is required to do so because part of the terms of the grant it receives from the VA is that the county can't go more than eight weeks without a service

Board hears pair of proposals for jail feasibility study

The Chickasaw County Board of Supervisors on Monday discussed the county's jail feasibility study with representatives from two companies.

Officials from the Samuels Group from Wisconsin and Midwest Construction from southern Iowa both said their companies would not only do the feasibility study on the future of the jail but also could help county personnel with future help if they decide to put a jail measure up for a referendum.

Samuels bid $20,000 to do the study while Midwest Construction's bid was for $10,400 but also would have extra costs for expenses incurred by the company.

The supervisors are expected to make a final decision in the near future.

officer.

She told supervisors the opening should be posted by the end of the week and that the commission's goal is to have a new service officer named no later than July 8 to fulfill the grant requirements.

Kuehn added that the commission is advertising for either a part-time or full-time position.

"When we say one or the other, it tends to limit the applications," she said, "and we'd like to see who applies before we make the decision on if it's going to be a part-time or full-time position."

Hackman also pointed out that the commission will soon have two openings and that those interested in submitting applications to serve should contact the Auditor's Office at 641-394-2100.

Veterans Commission members must have served in the military to be eligible to serve.

Council gets update on Chamber building

office building that will be located across the street from Mikkelson Park and $16,000 to Iowa Skin Care for remodeling costs in its soon-to-be new home at the former Wilshire Jewelry store.

TIF provides funding to companies by refunding the portion of their taxes from the increased valuation of a property for a set amount of time.

In other news from Monday night's City Council meeting:

- Council members agreed to allow Fidelity Bank and Trust to use three parking spaces adjacent to the bank on North Chestnut Avenue for "customer-only" parking through July 1. Bank officials made the request because Fidelity is planning to tear out and reconstruct the parking lot and drive-through area.
- The City Council also approved spending $4,025 this year and $3,100 in following years to the Oakland Corporation to set up a "cloud" account for the city.

City Clerk Karen Clemens said better transparency to the public is the goal of the project and that eventually residents will be able to access items like minutes, resolutions, ordinances, claims and other items online

- Council members received an update on the ongoing saga of the building located at 13/15 W. Main St., which currently is occupied by New Horizons-Chamber.

Thank you for all the cards, visits, phone calls and prayers for my birthday and hospitalization.

Thanks to all the staff at the New Hampton hospital and rehabilitation center for their kindness and care during my recent stay.

It was all greatly appreciated.

He Called It

If you chuck a shot from half court and call, “Bank!” or “Nothing but net!” and you hit it, it’s pretty impressive. This can be done, but the odds aren’t exactly in your favor.

The odds are worse if you tell everyone that you will be a professional athlete one day and win a championship or that you will become the president of the United States. Neither of these things is likely, but they are possible.

Jesus did something impossible, and He called it beforehand. He told His disciples on multiple occasions that He would be arrested in Jerusalem and killed—very possible. And then on the third day, He would come to life again — impossible!

It would be one thing to predict your own resurrection exactly 200 years after your death. You could make that prediction knowing that no one who heard it would be around to see it come true (or not).

Jesus said that He would die on one day (Friday), and that He would be alive by the third day (Sunday). No one believed it, not even the disciples who followed Him around for three years.

When Sunday came and Jesus appeared to them in the flesh alive and well, He said, “Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed” (John 20:29).

“You can take Me at My word,” He says. “What is impossible for you is not impossible for Me. I am the resurrection and the life. Because I live, you also will live” (John 11:25, 14:19).

Jesus promises that all who trust in Him will rise from the dead just as He has risen. They will be glorified like He is and will live forever like He does. You could never make this happen, Pastor Faugstad serves Redeemer Lutheran Church in New Hampton and the Jerico and Saude congregations northeast of town (<https://saudejerico.com/>).

but He can.

He called it, and when He calls it, He always delivers.

New Opportunities For 529 Plan Owners

If you want to provide educational opportunities for your children or grandchildren, you may want to consider investing in a 529 plan. In recent years, this plan has gotten more flexible, and potentially more powerful, than ever.

A key benefit of a 529 plan is that earnings are generally tax free, provided the money is used for qualified educational expenses. As the owner of the plan, you can essentially name any beneficiary you want, and you're free to change the beneficiary as needed. Contribution limits are quite high, so you can put away considerable sums in a 529 plan – and you may want to, because college costs have risen steadily over the years. In fact, for the 2021-22 academic year, the College Board reports that the average cost (tuition, fees, room and board) of a public, four-year college or university is more than $27,000 for in-state students and nearly $56,000 for students at private schools.

But 529 plans are no longer just for higher education. Over the past few years, the rules governing 529 plans have changed, so they can now be used for:

- K-12 tuition expenses (up to $10,000 per student, per year),
- Apprenticeship programs registered with the U.S. Department of Labor, and
- Student loans ($10,000 lifetime limit for student loan repayments per each 529 plan beneficiary and another $10,000 for each of the beneficiary's siblings.)

And soon, a major change will affect the relationship between grandparent-owned 529 plans and the financial aid packages awarded to their grandchildren. Families applying for aid have not been required to report grandparent-owned 529 account assets on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). However, under previous rules, you had to report withdrawals from the grandparent-owned plans as untaxed student income, which could reduce aid eligibility by up to 50% of the amount of cash received. But that's changing for the 2024-25 FAFSA, which won't require students to report cash support, including money taken from a grandparent-owned 529 plan. Instead, a student's total income amount will be reported directly from federal income tax returns. This means that a grandparent-owned 529 plan won't have any effect on need-based financial aid eligibility. This benefit to families is already here, because 2022 will be used as the base year for the 2024-25 FAFSA, so any withdrawals taken in 2022, and also going forward, won't need to be reported as student income.

With this change, families will now have more options on using 529 plans without jeopardizing financial aid. You can generally withdraw any amount from the aggregate of all 529 plans for higher education costs, but only the qualified withdrawals – the ones used for typical education-related expenses – will be tax-free. The earnings portion of non-qualified withdrawals are taxable and could also incur a 10% penalty.

Given the new rules affecting a grandparent-owned 529 plan, you should consult with a financial professional to determine how this plan can work with other strategies to help meet educational expenses while, at the same time, not detracting from the progress you'd like to make on other important goals, such as a comfortable retirement.

In any case, consider looking into a 529 plan – it was already a great tool for education funding, and it can now offer your family even more options.

Speaker to share near-death experiences

Hugeback-Johnson to host programs on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon at funeral home

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

It took all of about 10 minutes of listening to a podcast titled “Two Christian Dudes” for Gayla Hugeback to make the decision.

“I looked at Bryan [her husband] and told him that ‘if it’s the last thing I do, I’m going to bring Jim Woodford to New Hampton’ because I knew he had a message that we really needed to hear here,” Hugeback said. “And then I read his book and I was even more sure that we needed to hear Jim’s story.”

And beginning today, so too will New Hampton area residents as the former jetliner pilot who was declared clinically dead for 11 hours will share his experiences during several programs he will hold at Hugeback-Johnson Funeral Home.

During that 11-hour time period, Woodford said he visited heaven, and he will share, as Hugeback put it, “vivid details” of his experiences.

“It’s so powerful, so good, and he’s really devoted his life to bringing his message to anyone and everyone,” Hugeback said.

The funeral home will have a private program for the families it has served tonight

(Thursday) and then hold public programs at 6 p.m. on Friday and 1 p.m. on Saturday, and Hugeback said that Woodford is more than open to talking to other groups and churches while he is in the area.

There is no charge for the program, but she is asking those who plan to attend to call the funeral home at 641-394-4334 to make a reservation.

“He gets 400 to 500 requests a week,” she said, “so we feel so very fortunate that he wanted to come to New Hampton and share our story with us. Trust me, it’s well worth anyone’s time to hear Jim’s story and experiences.”

Coffeehouse seniors share a special bond honored. And, of course, the concert ended as it always does as students circled the gymnasium and sang “In This Very Room.”

But this year’s concert also included a “surprise” — a song titled “Aria Perte” written by senior Abigail Holschlag that the Concert Band played for its director, Justin Adam, on Sunday.

“Aria Perte” translated means “Song for You,” and Holschlag said she wrote the song because Adam has been so supportive of not only her but also her bandmates.

“It’s been on my mind for a long time because Mr. Adam and all our teachers really have given so much time to us,” she said. “The hard part was keeping it a surprise so we met at 7 in the morning to practice it.”

And they pulled it off, too. “Maybe I should have been a little more suspicious,” Adam said with a laugh, “because I’d get here at 7:45 and everyone’s in the room. ... I’m not going to lie, today meant the world to me.”

Ditto for Holschlag, but then again the entire concert was meaningful to her.

As it should have been; after all, for student-musicians like Holschlag, choir and band is just as important to them as say, football, volleyball, wrestling, etc., are to student-athletes.

So that emotion and those tears Sunday afternoon were well earned.

“You look forward to this for so long, but you also don’t want it to end,” said Holschlag, who will attend the University of Northern Iowa to study music education. “I will have many more concerts as a music teacher, but the people I have been with in band and choir ... they’re just special to me.”

She paused and wiped away the tears.

“Maybe you just have to be in music to get it, but we’ve gone through a lot,” she said. “Don’t get me wrong, it’s been fun, but it’s been a lot of work so it’s hard to say goodbye.”

The tears returned, as did the smile.

“But hopefully, we’ll still one day make beautiful music together.”

Quilter to present program at Chickasaw Event Center May 16

A Cedar Rapids man described as a quilter extraordinaire will present a program and display a number of his works during a special program that will be held on Monday, May 16, at the Chickasaw Event Center in New Hampton.

Don Dixon said that many people assume his pieces are produced using paint, but “when told that it’s fabric, they are surprised and intrigued as they take a much closer look. I’ve taken my live for quilting to a new artistic level by working with hand-dyed fabrics and using improvisational piecing techniques.”

The program on May 16 will start at 6 p.m., and the Event Center is asking those who will attend to RSVP by this Monday, May 9, so that they can have a food count. RSVPs can be made by emailing mdbeck@windstream.net or texting 641-220-3455.

The event is free, but organizers say freewill donations will be appreciated.

Northeast Iowa Conference extends invitations to five schools

The Northeast Iowa Conference didn’t take long to put forth an expansion effort as the conference schools last week sent letters to five area schools asking them to consider joining the league.

On April 22, the NEIC Executive Board officially removed Waverly-Shell Rock from the league, beginning with the 2023-24 school year, and three days later, the NEIC invited Osage, Oelwein, Sumner-Fredericksburg, MFL-Mar-Mac and North Fayette Valley to join the league.

Once Waverly-Shell Rock is out of the conference, the NEIC will have just five schools — New Hampton, Charles City, Crestwood, Decorah and Waukon — and conference officials, including New Hampton Superintendent Jay Jurens said one of the main reasons the NEIC removed Waverly-Shell Rock was they felt it would make the league more attractive for expansion.

‘Chickasaw Chat’ to be published in next week’s Tribune

New Hampton Middle School completed its “Endmester” program with a “showcase night” on Tuesday afternoon, and in next week’s Tribune, a group of 26 students who took part in “Chickasaw Chat” will have stories and photos from the various classes that were offered during the two-week program.

During Endmester, New Hampton Middle School English teacher Abigail Feldman and her students put together the stories and photos that will appear in the May 12 Tribune.

Mobile Food Bank to distribute May 19

The Northeast Iowa Mobile Food Bank will make its monthly stop in New Hampton on Thursday, May 19, when food will be distributed between 4 and 6:30 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church.

Herbert ‘Herb’ Neils, 91

Herb Neils

Herbert “Herb” Neils, age 91 of New Hampton, died Thursday, April 28, 2022, at the New Hampton Nursing and Rehabilitation Center.

The funeral service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 10, 2022, at Trinity Lutheran Church in New Hampton with the Rev. Kevin Frey presiding.

Interment will follow at Calvary Cemetery in New Hampton.

Friends may greet the family one hour prior to the service on Tuesday at the church. Hugeback Johnson Funeral Home and Crematory in New Hampton is entrusted with arrangements.

Herbert was born on July 22, 1930, to Edward Julius and Otilie Sophia (Kuschel) Neils in Courtland, Minnesota. He was the second youngest of the couple’s nine children and grew up in south-central Minnesota, where he received his education and enjoyed outdoor activities like hunting and fishing.

In 1952, at the age of 22, Herb enlisted in the U.S. Army and served his country during the Korean War. Sent to Korea to be a cook, he worked as a truck driver during much of his deployment.

Herbert married Priscilla Mae Lindmeyer in Watertown, South Dakota, on May 12, 1950, beginning a wonderful marriage that would last for 65 years.

The couple had three sons — Ron, Ken, and Tom — and the Neils brothers had a devoted, hard-working father who loved to visit with family and friends, watch the Minnesota Vikings and Minnesota Gophers football games, take his family on fishing vacations to the lakes of northern Minnesota and play dominoes, billiards, and cards. For years, Herbert and Priscilla were members of a card club that met once a month at various homes, where they played euchre and enjoyed the company of good friends.

After receiving his honorable discharge, Herbert worked at the Northwest Coop feed plant in the Twin Cities which later became Midland Feeds, and in 1967, he accepted an offer to become the manager at Midland’s plant in New Hampton. He remained with the company, which became Land O’Lakes until he retired in the late 1980s.

In retirement, Herbert and Priscilla enjoyed becoming snowbirds of sorts as they often visited their eldest son in Union City, California, enjoying many trips to the casinos to do a little gambling, see the shows, and enjoy the buffets. Herbert was also a movie buff with a preference toward comedies and war movies, especially those based on true stories.

Herbert was a phenomenal grandpa to his two grandsons, Connor and Logan, who knew their biggest fan at their youth and school activities was always their grandfather.

He was a member of the American Legion and, being the son of an ordained Lutheran minister, both his membership and time spent with the members of Trinity Lutheran Church in New Hampton meant a great deal to him.

Herbert lived a long and productive life, one in which he experienced both highs and lows yet throughout he always remained a loving and caring spouse, parent, grandparent, and friend. Those that knew him best will dearly miss him, but they also know that today he is reunited with his wife and his son in a far better place.

He is survived by two sons, Ron Neils of Union City, California, and Tom Neils of New Hampton; two grandsons, Connor Neils and Logan Neils; one sister-in-law, Orpha Neils of Portland, Oregon; and many nieces and nephews.

Herbert was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Priscilla in 2015; son, Kenneth Edward Neils in 1981; five brothers, Eugene, Ralph, Martin, Robert and Rolly; and three sisters, Dorothy, Ruth and Bernadine.

Leon C. Miller, 82

Leon Miller

Leon C. Miller, age 82 of Ionia, died Friday, April 29, 2022, at the Perry Lutheran Home in Perry.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11 a.m. Friday, May 6, 2022, at St. Boniface Catholic Church, Ionia, with the Rev. Brian Dellaert celebrating the Mass.

Friends may greet the family from 5 to 7 p.m. Thursday, May 5, 2022, at St. Boniface Catholic Church, Ionia. There will not be a viewing on the morning of the Mass.

Hugeback-Johnson Funeral Home and Crematory of New Hampton is entrusted with arrangements.

Leon Cletus Miller was born May 30, 1939, in New Hampton, the son of William and Marie (Flick) Miller, and he grew up on a farm near North Washington, where he received his education and helped his parents with a variety of farm chores.

It was on the farm where Leon learned a work ethic that he would retain for the rest of his life. He worked for more than 30 years at Hydrotile in Nashua and also farmed on the side.

But the true mark he made in life was on his family and friends, for Leon was the kind of guy who always put others before himself.

Leon married Jeanne Schwickerath on Feb. 10, 1959, and they settled in Ionia, where they welcomed their seven children — Jack, Cindy, Cathy, Mike, Janet and the twins, Jerry and Jim.

The Miller children have a plethora of wonderful memories when it comes to their father. There were the times he pulled the sleds behind a car on the frozen pond during the winter. There were the numerous weekend camping trips the family took during the summer. There were the lessons he delivered on planting a garden and the often futile efforts to get the kids to put the tools back where they got them!

Make no mistake about it, though, Leon was a great teacher to his children, and he was the dad that had many talents to keep the Miller family up and running. He could remodel a house inside and out, he and Jeanne made beautiful craft presents, he could fix up and paint pretty much any of the cars the kids drove. He could literally fix anything, and he was the go-to guy for not only his family but many of his friends.

The Miller children will tell you that their dad was quite an athlete, too, and they can tell you quite a few funny stories. Leon thought he was a champion fire walker and even had an extra pair of fire walking boots he carried in his camper. They also will tell you that Dad jumped off a ladder into the back of a pickup truck filled with dirt and managed to land on his feet. OK, maybe he fell, but the story is a lot better with him landing on his feet, right?

He may have been quiet at times, but when he was with his buddies, trust us, they had a good time. The camping group men built campfire tripods once and they all thought they “won” the competition. And Leon and his buddies always inspected

Wayne Ivan Nystel, 59

Wayne Nystel

Wayne Ivan Nystel, age 59 of New Hampton, passed away peacefully on Friday, April 29, 2022, at the Iowa City VA Medical Center at the age of 59. Surrounded by family members, he expressed his wishes and with love said his goodbyes to each and every one.

Friends and family were welcome to celebrate his life on Wednesday, May 4, 2022, from 4 to 7 p.m. at Hugeback-Johnson Funeral Home and Crematory in New Hampton. Burial will be held at Immanuel Lutheran Crane Creek Cemetery at a later date.

Wayne was born on Sept. 18, 1962, at 8 p.m. at St. Joseph’s Hospital. He was the middle child and third son, of Martha Bernadette (Wagner) Nystel and Ivan Merlin Nystel. He was baptized at Crane Creek Lutheran Church in Jerico, on Oct. 21, 1962.

Wayne had to become the “man of the house” at the age of 13 when his dad passed away unexpectedly. His older brothers were in the military and his mom had to go to work, which made him responsible for taking care of his 8-year-old twin sisters. It wasn’t always easy, but he did the best he could.

Wayne later went to work at Tom’s Restaurant as a busboy to help with the family expenses. He also worked for “Pops” Larsen at the Jack n’ Jill grocery store throughout his high school years.

Wayne graduated from New Hampton High School in 1981. After graduation, following his big brothers’ footsteps, Wayne decided to sign up for the military. He joined the Army in April 1982. He enjoyed his tour in Germany where he was a SP4 signal security specialist, commonly referred to as the Military Intelligence Unit. Upon returning to the states, he was stationed at Fort Hood, Texas. Wayne was honorably discharged in March of 1986. While in the Army, Wayne earned the Army Commendation Medal, Army Service Ribbon, Over Seas Service Ribbon, National Defense Service Medal, and the Sharpshooter Badge.

Wayne returned to New Hampton and continued, as always, to help his family. He took a job at the local Kum & Go convenience store and then went to work for Steffes Construction and later Black Top Service in 2009 when the two companies merged. He worked construction until 2015.

Due to various health issues, Wayne was unable to remain working. However, he continued to be a good friend and family-orientated person. He lived a humble life, putting others needs before his own. You could count on him to do anything for anyone that needed help.

Jeffrey ‘Jeff’ A. Bahlman, 73

Jeffrey “Jeff” A. Bahlmann, age 73 of Waterloo and formerly of Frederika, passed away on Sunday, April 17, 2022, at Pillars of the Cedar Valley in Waterloo.

A memorial service was held at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, April 20, 2022, at Conway-Markham Funeral Home in New Hampton, with a one hour visitation prior to the service. Burial was held at Alcock Cemetery in Frederika.

Online condolences may be left at www.conway-markhamfh.com. Memorials may be directed to the family.

Jeffrey Allan was born Sept. 7, 1948, the son of Stanley and Marian (Treloar) Bahlmann. He attended school in Frederika, Sumner and Tripoli. He proudly accomplished obtaining his GED from Hawkeye Technical College in Waterloo. Jeff spent his life working hard at various janitorial positions in Mason City and Waterloo. In more recent years he devoted his time to Good Will until his retirement.

When not at work, Jeff enjoyed fishing, hiking, and going for walks to the Frederika Park. He was an avid sports fan cheering on the Green each other’s home improvement projects just to see who could find the mistakes first.

Leon had a large collection of John Deere toy tractors that he proudly displayed for years, and his Christmas village collection grew to the point that it took up most of the Miller living room.

One of his favorite sayings to his kids when he didn’t quite agree with what they were saying was “you’re nuttier than a fruitcake” and one year, the each of the Miller children wrapped up each present with a fruitcake.

In short, he taught his children well. You worked hard but you always put your family and friends first. Leon did that for his entire life, and maybe one of his sons said it best when he wrote “the one thing that I can say is I wouldn’t be the man that I am today without the teaching of a great Dad.”

Survivors include his wife, Jeanne of Perry; four sons, Jack (Cathy) Miller of California, Mike (Heidi) Miller of Urbandale, Jim (Michelle) Miller of Waukee, and Jerry (Shannon) Miller of Waukee; three daughters, Cindy (Bill) Flesch of Waukee, Cathy (Dale) King of Lawler, and Janet Kovalsky of Waukee; 12 grandchildren, Abby (Rafal) Kuchta, Erica (Mike) Wadas, Brooke Miller, Mackenzie Flesch, Hunter Flesch, Madison Flesch, Steph (Adam) Bowersox, Holly (Chris) Hulke, Christopher Kovalsky, Justin Kovalsky, Brandon Miller, and Ashley Miller; five great-grandchildren, Jase Bowersox, Cooper Bowersox, Maya Kuchta, Zoey Kuchta, and Lucy Hulke; and one sister, Florence Flugge of St. Ansgar.

He was preceded in death by his parents; two brothers, Dennis Miller, Jerome (Catherine) Miller; son-in-law, David Kovalsky; brother-in-law, Alden Flugge.

Wayne was a true Chicago Cubs and Green Bay Packers fan, and, of course, the Iowa Hawkeyes. He was an avid reader and enjoyed listening to all kinds of music. He valued spending time with his friends and being the protective but “terrorizing” big brother to his sisters. Wayne had that special little smirk and chuckle that would always seem to make everyone feel better.

Wayne has been through a lot in his life, especially in the last seven years. He was always brave. He is now with friends and family that meant the world to him and will be there waiting for us. Family members remember Wayne as being strong, unselfish, and a “little” stubborn.

He loved his family and was the greatest brother and friend to many.

Wayne is survived by his siblings, Irvin Nystel of New Hampton, Glenn (Ellen) Nystel of Manchester, Sara (Dale) James, Garner, and Sandra (Dan) Brummond of New Hampton; many nieces and nephews, whom he was so proud of, Leah (Bob Tlaskil) Nystel, Anita (Leroy Medina) Reliford, Jessica Nystel, Jeff Nystel, Mark Nystel, Dylan (Alyssa Brock) James, Payton (McKenzie Marks) James, Samantha (Bob) Mueller, and Dalton Brummond; his great-nieces, Alexis, Amaya and Alyssa Reliford and Henley and Carson Mueller; and godparents, Adis and Charlie Lee.

He was proceeded in death by his parents Ivan (1976) and Martha (1999) Nystel; his grandparents; sister-in-law Dorothy (2021), and many aunts, uncles and cousins.

Bay Packers, and the St. Louis Cardinals. He never missed All Star Wrestling or episodes of Days of Our Lives. He was also known to spin around the dance floor of the Electric Park Ballroom in Waterloo.

Jeff cherished time with his family most of all! His memory will be honored and shared by his siblings, Gary (Gayle) Bahlmann of Lansing, Marilyn (Vern) Bockhaus of Ionia, Dennis Bahlmann of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, Judy Houston of St. Louis, Debbie Reding of Waterloo, and Marty Bahlmann of Cedar Falls; his aunts and uncles, LaDonna Lampe of Waverly, Judy Treloar of Waucoma, and Don (Mary) Treloar of Hawkeye; and numerous nieces, nephews and extended family members.

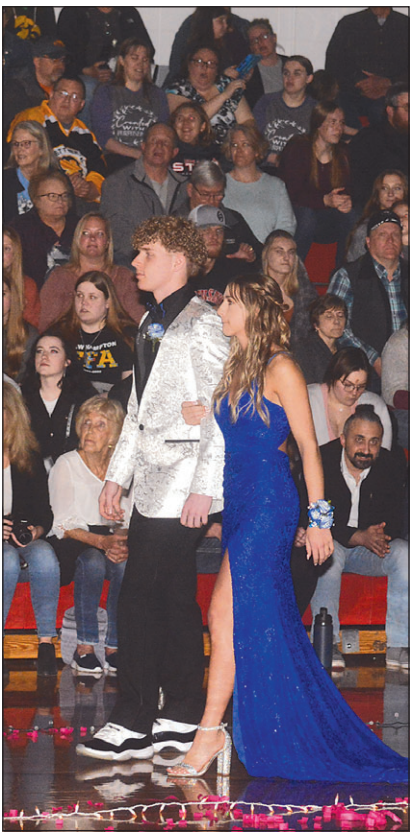

He was welcomed into Heaven by his parents, Stanley and Marian; his brother-in-law, Denny Reding; his grandparents; uncles, Jack, George and Clayton Treloar, Virgil (Wilma) Bahlmann and Kenny Lampe; and aunts, Joyce Ellicson, Beth Wireman Catherine Flaig, Iola Buccholz, Ruth Rosol, Eldora (George) Hagen and Maxine (Roy) Volker.

CONTINUING THE CATTLE TRADITION

FARMING IS IN THE BLOOD OF THE NOSBISCH FAMILY

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

Little Coy Nosbisch bounded into the barn Sunday morning ready to tackle his job — feed the cattle on the his parents' farm.

As his father, Randy, got the hay bales ready to unload, 3 1/2-year-old Coy immediately struck up a conversation with the animals.

"Hi cows," he said. "How's your day going? It's time to eat."

He then went to work spreading out the hay in the feeding troughs, continuing to talk both to the cows and the reporter.

"I love animals," he said. "And I love cows."

He may be a little young to grasp all of it, but Randy and Morgan Nosbisch's small cattle operation and the couple hundred acres of land they farm is continuing a longstanding family tradition.

One might even say that little Coy and his younger brother, soon-to-be 1-year-old Charlie, were born with a farm in their blood.

Their father grew up on a farm just outside of North Washington, where he and his sisters helped their parents, Tim and Sue, both in the fields and in the barn and cattle pens.

Their mother grew up on a farm near Garner with her parents, Cory and Sis Greiman, and her younger brother, and she was born with a natural affinity for animals and agriculture.

"I pretty much showed everything and anything back then," Morgan said with a laugh. "Pigs, horses, dogs, cattle, even sheep once ... no rabbits or goats, though. But I've always been a pretty big cow person."

Same for Randy, although he just worked with his dad on the farm and never had a penchant for showing at local fairs and contest. Still, he's continued the Nosbisch cattle tradition, in part, because of his two little boys.

"I think for kids, the animals are a real attraction at a young age," he said. "If all you do is crops, not that there's anything wrong with that, for a little kid that can be kind of boring, but give them an animal and they get excited. Hopefully that continues and one day, they'll want to take over the farm. If not, that's OK, too. I don't want to push them; I want them to enjoy it like I did, like Morgan did."

RANDY NOSBISCH graduated from New Hampton High School

Young Coy Nosbisch (above) works on feeding his parents' cattle on the Century Farm (below) that has been in the Nosbisch family for more than 110 years and is located just outside of North Washington.

ed from New Hampton High School in 2007, and a year later, Morgan Greiman received her high school diploma at Garner-Hayfield High School.

They both attended college at Iowa State University, where they met in ag education classes.

"No great story," Morgan said when asked about how they met, "except we had a lot of the same classes and a lot of the same interests."

One thing led to another, they began dating and found themselves as college graduates teaching in different parts of the state. Randy taught ag classes in Emmetsburg; Morgan taught at Colonesco.

On June 28, 2014, they were married and made the move to New Hampton.

Randy left teaching and went to work for Tom Ryan Insurance, a firm he would purchase several years later and rename Nosbisch Insurance.

Morgan, meanwhile, accepted a job as the agriculture teacher and FFA advisor in Riceville.

In 2018, Coy was born and a year ago, the family grew with the arrival of Charlie.

Today, they live in the farmhouse where Randy was raised. The small farm was started by Randy's great-grandfather in 1910 and is now classified as a Century Farm.

Much has changed since 1910.

Years ago, the farm was home to a family with 10 children, and parents didn't work off the farm.

Today, of course, Randy and Morgan have full-time jobs.

"It's a different world," Randy said. "We'd almost be classified as a hobby farm as small as we are, but I'm glad we're here."

"Farming's in my blood, and I'm sure Morgan would say the same thing."

YOUNG FARMERS APPRECIATE THEIR PARENTS

NOSBISCH: FROM 9

It's not a big operation obviously, but I guess it gives me a chance to get my farming and cattle fix."

IT'S BEEN A busy spring on the Nosbisch farm. The reason comes down to three words — it's calving season.

It is not a birth-to-finish-farm; instead, Randy and Morgan raise calves, get them off weaning and then sell them to other cattle farmers who, as Randy puts it, "fatten them up."

Oh, they save a cow or two for the freezer, but the family basically is in the business of raising young cows.

Cory Greiman helps with the artificial insemination, although the couple does have a bull if he's needed, but the busiest time of the year when one is a cattle farmer, be it big or small, is right before and after the calves arrive.

"We've been up at 3 in the morning," Randy said with a laugh, "because, you know, they're not going to be born on your schedule, right?"

They also get plenty of help from Randy's dad, for Tim Nosbisch comes to the farm almost on a daily basis.

"I think he's checking up on me," Randy said, and Morgan couldn't help but laugh.

"And you need checking up on," she said.

Randy turned serious for a moment, though, and said one of the blessings of coming from a family farm is the help he and his wife get from their parents.

Back in 2007, Morgan Greiman was about to enter her senior year of high school when her cow, Shiraz, was named the supreme champion at the Hancock County Fair, and today, she and her husband have two children. While 3 1/2-year-old Coy is helping on the farm, their youngest son Charlie (below) isn't quite old enough to be around the cows and right now he's just ready for a little lunch.

"We couldn't do it without them," he said, "and we're both grateful for them. ... And for me, just getting a chance to be around my dad as much as I get to, that means a lot to me."

CALVING SEASON is almost over on the Nosbisch farm, and young Coy Nosbisch is almost done with his "chores" on this day.

Maybe he will follow in his parents' footsteps one day. Maybe his little brother will. Or maybe not.

But the memories Coy is making will remain with his parents for a lifetime.

As dad and son walk out of the barn, Randy reminds Coy to turn off the lights. As he hits the light switch, he smiles and looks back at the cattle.

"Bye cows," he said, "see you soon."

SALUTE TO BEEF PRODUCERS

Beef, it's what for dinner ... or any other meal!

Rock and Roll Beef Wraps

INGREDIENTS
1 pound Ground Beef (93% lean or leaner)
1 cup water
1/3 cup uncooked quinoa
2 tablespoons dry ranch dressing mix
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
2 cups packaged broccoli or coleslaw mix
4 medium whole grain or spinach tortillas (7 to 8-inch diameter)
Toppings (optional):
Apple slices, red bell pepper strips, cucumber slices, carrot slices, sliced almonds, chow mein noodles

COOKING
Heat large nonstick skillet over medium heat until hot. Add Ground Beef; cook 8 to 10 minutes, breaking into 1/2-inch crumbles and stirring occasionally. Pour off drippings, as necessary.
Cook's Tip: Cooking times are for fresh or thoroughly thawed ground beef. Ground beef should be cooked to an internal temperature of 160°F. Color is not a reliable indicator of ground beef doneness.
Stir in water, quinoa, ranch dressing mix and pepper; bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 10 to 15 minutes or until quinoa is tender. Stir in slaw; cook, uncovered, 3 to 5 minutes or until slaw is crisp-tender, stirring occasionally.
Divide beef mixture evenly among tortillas; garnish with toppings, as desired. Fold over sides of tortillas and rolling up to enclose filling.
Cook's Tip: Romaine or iceberg lettuce leaves can be substituted for tortillas.

1/4 cup seasoned dry bread crumbs
1 egg
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon minced garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper

COOKING:
Heat oven to 400°F. Combine Ground Beef, bread crumbs, egg, water, garlic, salt and pepper in large bowl, mixing lightly but thoroughly. Shape into twelve 2-inch meatballs. Place on rack in broiler pan that has been sprayed with cooking spray. Bake in 400°F oven 24 to 27 minutes.
Serve with pasta sauce over hot cooked pasta or as sandwiches in crusty Italian rolls, if desired.

pounds)
2 tablespoons chile powder
2 tablespoons packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon ground cumin
2 teaspoons minced garlic
2 teaspoons apple cider vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon ground red pepper1/4 cup seasoned dry bread crumbs
1 egg
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon minced garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper Combine BBQ Rub ingredients; press evenly onto beef T-Bone Steaks.

COOKING
Place steaks on grid over medium, ash-covered coals. Grill, covered, 11 to 16 minutes (over medium heat on preheated gas grill, 15 to 19 minutes) for medium rare (145°F) to medium (160°F) doneness, turning occasionally. Remove bones and carve steaks into slices, if desired. Season with salt, as desired.

Prom leaves Trojan shooters undermanned

By DOROTHY HUBER
dorhubernews@gmail.com

Proms have changed over the years. Turkey Valley trapshooting coach Kurt Klimesh realizes this and just goes with the flow. Klimesh thought about 13-14 members were absent from a Saturday meet at Cresco and he was fine with their absence. “If they want to shoot right away and leave, they can. But I had a girl years ago that had been shooting right around 48. On prom morning she shot a 7. She didn’t really want to shoot. When you do shoot I want you there and not somewhere else, if I’m going to force you to shoot, I know how you’re going to shoot.” Although he was fine with their absence, that didn’t mean he quite understood. “I always think ‘holy cow, how long does it take to get dressed’ but the girls, they’ve gotta start getting their hair done at 7:30 you know,” he said with a laugh.

The weather didn’t cooperate Saturday either, hitting a trifecta of cold, wind and rain. Last Thursday was a better day as the team took on South Winn. “That day wasn’t so cold and windy, we got a little break and the kids didn’t shoot too bad.” TV Red — with Brody Hackman, Marcus Kriener, Jackson Vsetecka, Cadyn Huber and Tanner Thlusty — won the meet with a 214. Huber was the runner-up girl in the individual standings with her 42 and Ashley Fischer was third at 41, while Hackman’s 46 was third among the individual boys. Although the Trojans didn’t crack the top three in the squad or the individual boys standings at Cresco Saturday, Huber tied for second among the girls with a 39 and Klimesh also noted the shooting of his seventh and eighth graders as TV Pink won their division. “I’m surprised we panned out as well as we did that day, considering the conditions,” said the coach. “Some of those shooters had a pretty hard rain.” After hosting Oelwein Tuesday and South Winn Thursday, the North Iowa Community College invite will be held at the Turkey Valley range Saturday. Klimesh said the 7-8 graders would shoot in the morning and varsity in the afternoon.

New Hampton’s Braden McShane (above) picks up speed after getting out of the blocks to start the distance medley while Hunter Serie (below) looks to make a move in the 100 at the New Hampton Invitational Monday evening.

Coach finds positives in home meet game. You have to look at the other teams in your district and make your best call on loading up events,” said NH head coach Scott Jenkins. “There are events that you feel pretty good about qualifying for state, and then there are events you “hope” will qualify.” After Monday’s home meet for the Chickasaws, Jenkins has somewhat of a better feel of what he’ll gun for at the state qualifying meet next week on Thursday, May 12. NH competes in the NEIC meet tonight (Thursday) at Waverly.

NH sophomore Braden McShane ran a PR in the open 200 with a blue-ribbon effort of 24.07 at the New Hampton Invite, which the Chickasaws placed seventh overall as a team with 34 points.

McShane helped anchor the third-place 4x400 relay that also produced a season-best time of 3:40.26.

That squad is made up of Dylan Usher, Aiden Roberson and Ethan Praska.

Usher, a senior, PR’d in the open 800 to place fifth in 2:10.04. That was also a season-best time.

Usher ran the final leg on the first-place distance medley team (3:45) of Carter Cahoy, McShane and Roberson. That clip was – you guessed it – a PR.

“Braden and Dylan both had good nights, and not just because they won races. Both are hard workers in practice, and that’s a trait that successful track teams have across the board,” said Jenkins. “They both set great examples in practice, and it shows because their times are doing what they should be doing at this time of the season – going down.” Perhaps the best effort of the evening came from junior P.J. Anderson.

Anderson hit for PRs in the mile (10:44) and two-mile run (5:04).

“P.J. was rolling Monday,” said Jenkins.

Jenkins said Anderson went out hard in the first mile of the 3,200 run and actually ran those four laps faster than his 1,600 run – which took place after the 3,200.

“He had to gut it out the last part of that race, but running the race that way lets him know where his pain threshold is – that becomes important at districts,” Jenkins added.

NH also competed at the Osage Invite on Tuesday, April 26. The Chickasaws ended up finishing in seventh place with 41 points.

The Chickasaws’ distance medley team took first at that meet in 3:55.

“Hurdling in that environment can change your rhythm between hurdles. She was to the hurdle quicker and was crowding the hurdle,” said NH head coach Jeanette Laures.

About an hour-and-a-half later, Rochford bounced back from that uncharacteristic performance in the hurdles to place eighth in the long jump with a leap of 16-8. Rochford placed 10th in the event last year as a sophomore.

New Hampton heads to NEIC meet Monday clubhouse with a runner-up medalist card of 44.

“That’s a pretty good score for the conditions, the temperature – all that,” said Eric Olson. “We’re making progress. Our top three are solid. So far we’ve gotten somebody to be the fourth.”

That all important fourth score that counts toward the team stroke total came from sophomore Kinsli Dahl (53) this go-round against the Go-Hawks.

NH also defeated W-SR on Monday at an NEIC Quad held at Cedar Ridge Golf Course in Charles City. The Chickasaws won the quad with a total of 193. New Hampton defeated Decorah in a league dual on Friday at home – 188 to 306.

“It was better. We played a lot better today,” said Lydia Olson about Thursday’s dual win over W-SR. “We still had a few hiccups.”

Nuss hit her low 9-hole round of the season with a 40 against Decorah. Nuss must have straightened out her driver after her round against the Go-Hawks.

“Usually my driver’s been straight, but lately it’s been a very big slice – so it goes to the right,” said Nuss after the W-SR dual at home. “I was actually really nervous today because I had a golf lesson last night after practice to try and fix the slice. My swing changed a little bit so I was a little inconsistent on the course.”

spot in the NEIC dual with a 44.

“It gives you that little confidence boost of even though I’m not like amazing right now, I can still deal with this number and it will get better as it gets warmer,” said Lydia.

NH finishes the season at home on Friday in a rescheduled meet versus Don Bosco. The Chickasaws will gun for their seventh-consecutive NEIC crown when it travels to Waukon for the league meet on Monday, May 9.

“We’ve got good leadership. We’ve got a great team that’s really together,” said Eric Olson. “I’m just really proud of where we’re at right now and doing the best we can.”

After the conference meet, it’s off to the Class 2A regional meets – the first round is set for May 13 while the final round will be May 18 — where New Hampton will begin its quest for a fifth-straight trip to state.

The New Hampton girls golf team shot a season-low, 18-hole total of 366 to place runner-up at the Clear Lake Invitational, held on Tuesday, April 26, at the Veterans Memorial Golf Club.

Clear Lake won the meet over the Chickasaws on its home course by 36 strokes – firing a stellar 330.

Rebecca DeLong of Clear Lake carded a 78 for medalist honors.

DeLong’s 18-hole round was one stroke better than medalist runner-up – NH senior Sanja Noehl’s 79.

Lydia Olson, a junior for the Chickasaws, came into the clubhouse with an 88. New Hampton’s next-best score was from freshman Lauren Nuss, who worked the course to a 94.

NH head coach Eric Olson said his daughter Lydia and Noehl were his only golfers that had played the course before.

“Lydia and Sanja have been good leaders,” said Eric Olson. “They’ve done a great job of showing the way on how we go about doing things for the ones that don’t have as much experience.”

Postseason nears for TV girls

TV's Blazek takes on N-P's Huck in 800
showdown

By Kelly Terpstra
sports@nhtrib.com

The Turkey Valley girls track team had over half its regular season wiped out because of bad weather this spring.

Eight regular season meets all told cancelled due to horrible running conditions makes performing at your peak level – without a question – a lot harder.

You won't hear any Trojans complain about the lack of lead-up time to prepare for the biggest meet of the season to date when TV travels to Postville tonight (Thursday) for the Upper Iowa Conference meet.

That's just not in TV's DNA. "If we can't compete with other teams, we've got to learn to compete with each other," said Trojan senior Jalyssa Blazek. "Going to practice and working hard – a lot of personal growth comes from what you want to accomplish."

Blazek has been running sprints this spring. She won the 100 dash and 200 dash at last Tuesday's meet at Clayton Ridge.

TV – with 103 points – placed runner-up at that meet to Sumner-Fredericksburg's 123 points. The Trojans also ran at MFL-Mar-Mac a week ago last Thursday – placing fifth (47 points).

But it was during less-than-pleasant running conditions – windy with low temps – at North Butler that Blazek was able to square off against one of the state's best – Nashua-Plainfield freshman Kadence Huck.

"It's definitely hard to tell with where we sit with the other teams because we've have not been able to compete with some of the best," said Blazek. "We still have high hopes and we've still got a lot of goals to achieve. We're still looking for big things to happen."

The showdown in the open 800 did not disappoint and perhaps gave track fans a preview of what may come down at the finish line in two weeks at state down in Des Moines.

Blazek – a senior that placed third in the event at state last year – was just nipped by Huck at the tape in a photo finish.

Huck sports the sixth-fastest 800 time (2:24.23) in the small-school class – Blazek the seventh with a 2:24.42.

Hailey Elsbernd hands off to Adysen Wurzer in the 4x800 relay that finished second last week at North Butler.

They were even closer on Friday as Huck eeked past Blazek by six-one-hundreths of a second – 2:29.38 to 2:29.44.

There were other blue-ribbon finishes for TV – which placed eighth in the Class 1A state team standings in 2021.

TV junior Jacqlyn Schmitt won the discus at Clayton Ridge with a heave of 97-5.5. TV senior Josie Weber was first in the 3,000 run at North Butler in 12:57.

The TV sprint medley squad of Kara Reicks, Josie Weber, Olivia Snyder and Blazek placed first in 1:59.66 at MFL-Mar-Mac.

"During the next two weeks I see us looking for some more times to drop in relays as the weather might actually be getting better coming up," TV head coach Dalton Hackman. "We need to keep grinding to see what we are capable of and able to take down to state."

Relays a strength for Trojans at Clayton Ridge

By Kelly Terpstra
sports@nhtrib.com

It wasn't a clean sweep for Mark Scott's Turkey Valley Trojans at Clayton Ridge last Thursday – but it came close.

TV won five relays (4x100, 4x400, 4x800, sprint medley, distance medley) and placed third at the Clayton Ridge Invite. The Trojans were just a single point back of runner-up Prairie du Chien in the team standings.

The sprint medley team of Carson Busta, Chase Hayek, Marcus Herold and Noah Hanson ran to a season-best time of 1:41.2.

Herold placed runner-up in the 200 dash (24.21) and was third in the 100 dash in 12.22.

Dylan Reicks placed second in the open 400 in a time of 55.09 while Noah Hanson raced to a third-place finish in the 800 run in 2:13.

Russell Nieman PR'd in the two-mile run in a time of 11:15.89. That finish was good for third place. Nieman also competed to a fourth-place finish in the mile run with a time of 5:05.

spots as Carson was second in the 110 hurdles and long jump and Burke took the silver in the open 400. Russell Nieman finished second in the 1,600 and Marcus Herold second in the shot put. Nieman's time was a season-best, as were both efforts by Carson Busta.

Jalyssa Blazek was the top runner for the TV girls, with wins in the 100 meters, the 800, the 1,500 and the sprint medley, which started off with Kara Reicks, then went to Josie Weber and Olivia Snyder before Blazek anchored.

Snyder was also on the winning 4x100 relay with Ryann Schmitt, Reicks and Weber and was second in the 200 dash. "Not being a school with an all-weather track has been hard on us but we do the best we can and I hope we can still send a couple relays to state."

She was, in particular, hoping for a return trip to state in the sprint med, where most of the quartet that ran Monday return from a second-place finish last year. She likes the event.

"I like to run ones the best, but ones and twos are much more enjoyable than fours or longer, in my opinion." She said that with a grin that indicated that she really didn't like the long distances. "I was very happy with the sprint med and 4x1 times from tonight," coach Dalton Hackman said. "Things seen to be moving in the right direction. Handoffs looked considerably better and times will drop more once weather improves more."

Along with Snyder's runner-up spot in the 200, Cambree Kruse was second in the 3,000 and Jacqlyn Schmitt was the runner-up in the discus.

"Thinking we will have a shot in some things yet," Hackman added. "Some good individual times were hit tonight as well. Cambree dropped 30-plus seconds in her 3,000 this evening."

New Hampton trapshooters take advantage of a non-windy day

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

One look at the scores the New Hampton trapshooting posted Monday night in a meet at Crestwood shows the improvement the high-powered Chickasaws have made this season.

And it also shows what a “nice night” can do for a trapshooting team. “They are getting better,” New Hampton coach Jay Matthews said, “there’s no question about it. But it also helps when you have a decent night to shoot. For once, the winds weren’t howling, and the clays were just hanging out there and our shooters hit them.”

Did they ever, as New Hampton had three teams go over the 230 mark. Red won the squad title with a 239, Black finished third with a 232 and Gold was fourth just a shot behind.

Meanwhile, New Hampton continued to add to its list of perfect scores as Ethan Swehla and Kayla Holschlag both had 50s to win their respective divisions while Ashton Venem finished with a 49 and then went a perfect 25-for-25 to win a three-way shootoff for second place. On the girls side, New Hampton’s Tori Bearman had a 46 and then scored a 20 to win a shootoff by one clay for second place. “It was a really good night for our kids, and I thought they did a great job,” Matthews said. “Maybe it was a little chilly but shooters will take the cold over the wind any day.”

New Hampton also recorded a perfect score in last Tuesday’s meet against Oelwein as Venem won the boys title with a 50 while Holschlag claimed the girls title with a 49.

And on Thursday, New Hampton took two of the top three places in a meet in which each shooter shot 100 clays.

“We have a few of them and we like to do it because it gets our kids ready for state, where you’re shooting 100 in the morning and 100 in the afternoon,” Matthews said. “It helps us build up our stamina. People who don’t get our sport don’t realize that it takes some strength to do well.”

Chickasaws hoping for postseason peak

By KELLY TERPSTRA
sports@nhtrib.com

The New Hampton boys golf team hasn’t put the total package together this season out on the links – but don’t think they’re aren’t capable.

Four consistent scores by the Chickasaws and head coach Bill Glenn could have the talented squad in the running for a state berth should low scores happen all at once.

“We’re still waiting like we did last year to have four guys all go low at the same time. That’s the consistency we’re striving for,” said Bill Glenn. “We just haven’t got there yet. We’re trying to peak at the right time and the right time is in the next couple weeks.”

New Hampton’s Jack Shawver, just a sophomore, proved he had what it takes last week Tuesday in a triangular with area squad Turkey Valley and Sumner-Fredericksburg. Shawver fired a season-best, nine-hole total of 39 on his home course to win medalist honors.

“Definitely good to see Jack get that 39,” said Glenn. “That’s something he’s been striving to do. We’ve got some other guys knocking at the door of that.” NH defeated TV and S-F with a round of 165.

Then it was off to Waverly to take on the Go-Hawks last Thursday on their home course in another triangular. W-SR shot lights out with a 305. The Chickasaws ended up with a 333.

“That’s probably about our nine-hole average if you cut it half,” said Glenn.

Mason Lane (80), Kam Josephson (82) and Adam Ewert (83) were Glenn’s top scorers at the W-SR meet.

The weather and the course was not kind on Friday at Cedar Ridge Golf Course in Charles City. W-SR won that quadrangular with a 327, Decorah was runner-up (368), Charles City was third with a 373 and New Hampton was two strokes back of that with a 375.

Kyler Glenn and Lane led the pack for the Chickasaws with 93s on that tough spring day.

“We had all three things. We had cold, we had wind and we had rain,” said Bill Glenn. “When you mix all three of those it’s really difficult to play.”

NH took on Waukon at home tonight (Thursday) at the New Hampton Country Club.

Then the Chickasaws host the Class 2A Sectional Tournament next Wednesday, May 11. NH competes in the NEIC meet at Charles City Friday, May 13.

Blazek signs with Iowa to run for Hawkeyes

School record holder at TV a preferred walk-on her freshman year in Iowa City

By Kelly Terpstra
sports@nhtrib.com

There's no shame in rooting for the Cyclones and Hawkeyes when you live in the state of Iowa.

Now if they're taking on one another in an athletic event, that might be a different story.

Regardless, Turkey Valley's Jalyssa Blazek – a self-proclaimed Iowa State fan – doesn't mind one bit sporting the black of gold that adorns the jerseys of the University of Iowa.

That's where she'll be attending school next fall after making a verbal commitment to run cross country and track for the Hawkeyes.

Blazek, a TV senior that holds the school record in the 800 run with a time of 2:20.32 and is a four-time medalist at the cross country meet, said her father attended the Iowa State University and most of her family cheers for the Cyclones.

"They're okay with making the change and making the exception," smiled Blazek before the start of the North Butler Invite at Greene last Friday.

Blazek experienced one of the highlights of her tremendous athletic career at Turkey Valley when she placed state runner-up in the Class 1A State Tournament at Fort Dodge in late October.

Then she opened up an email shortly after that big race that set her on a path to Iowa City to compete on the Division I level in a sport that has fearlessly driven her to succeed.

Very few runners on the prep level achieve the kind of success Blazek has worked hard to attain. Even less athletes compete on the Division I level in their chosen sport.

"It's still unbelievable and hard to put my mind around it because it's so far and few in between," said Blazek. "It's just an amazing opportunity to even get the chance to run."

To say she received a bolt of excitement and energy from opening the email from Hawkeye associate head cross country coach Randy Hasenbank would be a pretty big understatement.

"When they sent me an email my heart skipped a beat and I was excited to get to go on a visit alone," said Blazek. "Just knowing that I don't know anyone

Chickasaws struggle in 9-0 loss at Hudson

New Hampton's soccer team is still looking for its first win of the season against a team not from Charles City.

The Chickasaws, who have beaten the Comets three times this season, traveled to Hudson on Monday and fell 9-0 to the Pirates.

New Hampton was coming off a 7-5 win over Charles City the previous Monday but building momentum this season has been difficult because of the weather.

The Chickasaws' game at North Fayette Valley last Thursday was postponed.

Hudson built a 5-0 halftime lead and then added four second-half goals as the Pirates improved to 5-5.

New Hampton fell to 3-5 and will return to action on Friday when the Chickasaws play at Aplington-Parkersburg/Dike-New Hartford.

Dorothy Huber/Tribune

She's anchored a lot of winning Trojan relays, like this one Monday at South Winn, but next year Jalyssa Blazek will be trying out for a spot on the Hawkeye roster.

that has been able to do that, it's a proud moment for myself to be the first from Turkey Valley to have something like that."

Blazek will not be on scholarship – at least her first year competing for the Hawkeyes.

"I'm considered a walk-on. They saved a spot on the roster for me," said Blazek. "Now I've filled that spot. It's one less spot they have. I think I'm more recruited for my cross country time."

Blazek's time in the state race last fall was the fastest time ever for a Class 1A runner. The problem was Calamus-Wheatland freshman Noelle Steines' time was even better. Her 18:20 clip bested Blazek by almost 16 seconds.

Blazek placed third in the 800 run last year at the state meet in Des Moines and helped the Trojans sprint medley team break another school record (1:51.62) in that event. The relay, comprised of Kara Reicks, Clare Courtney, Olivia Snyder and Blazek, ran to a state runner-up finish in 2021.

The school record was also broken by Blazek as far as the fastest time every run by a Trojan athlete in cross country as well with a time of 18:36.3.

Trojans see many great efforts at South Winn

By Dorothy Huber
dorhubernews@gmail.com

When Noah Hanson took the handoff from Dylan Reicks in the 4x800 Monday, Reicks had given him a solid lead, but Alburnett's Lucas Ahrendsen closed the gap in the first lap around the oval.

"I did get a little worried when I could hear him coming up behind me," said Hanson after the race. "We don't usually run against Alburnett so I've never seen that guy before."

Hanson picked up his pace and held off the challenge to bring in the win by just over four seconds in what was a chilly but uncharacteristically windless night at the South Winn invite. The Turkey Valley girls were second among seven teams at the meet and of the six boys teams the Trojans were third.

The boys 4x8, with Russell Nieman, Ryan Franzen, Reicks and Hanson had its best time of the cancellation-ridden season.

"It really helped that Dylan gave [the baton] to me in the lead so I didn't have to chase," Hanson said. "On a warm day, we could probably cut more time."

That's what coach Mark Scott is banking on. "I have been concerned with not having many meets that our times were not getting to what they could be," he said. "But last night we dropped our times in almost every race. Ryan's [Franzen] 800 time was his season best in the open 800."

Franzen's 800 time of 2:13.96 was the lone solo winner for the Trojans – with only 13 members on the team roster – although they did finish second in five events and won three relays.

Other relay winners included the sprint medley with Troy Schmitt, Hanson, Marcus Herold and Chase Hayek, while the 4x200 with Hanson, Hayek, Reicks and Herold crossed the line with a 1:36.68 for the win.

The Busta boys contributed to the string of runner-up

Rochford jumps to pair of top-10 finishes, 4x400 relay runs its season-best time in Des Moines

By Kelly Terpstra

Sometimes waiting is the hardest part. For Chickasaw track fans – that long stretch of time in between featured events on Friday for New Hampton at last week’s Drake Relays was well worth it. New Hampton junior Carlee Rochford – believed to be the first ever New Hampton athlete to compete in four events at Drake – opened the day bright and early on Friday with the prestigious meet’s first scheduled event for prep athletes. That meant the clock read 8 a.m. sharp. That event – the 100 hurdles – did not go well for Rochford. She started out the race fine, but clipped the seventh hurdle with her lead leg and ended up finishing in 31st place (17.39). Rochford ran in Heat 1 and came in with a seeded time of 15.7.

The 2022 spring sports season has been a grind. That goes without saying. For the New Hampton Chickasaw girls golf team – it was business as usual despite the harsh weather conditions Eric Olson’s squad has faced thus far in the regular season. NH shot a season-low 183

The third time proved to be the charm when it came to New Hampton playing host to a track meet. After seeing its coed and girls invitational both canceled last month because of the weather, the Chickasaw boys got a chance to stay home for a meet on Monday night. And now, it’s on to the post-season as New Hampton heads to Waverly tonight (Thursday) for the Northeast Iowa Conference meet before traveling to Osage a week from today for the all-important Class 2A state qualifying meet.
