PLENTY OF PICTURES TAKEN, MEMORIES MADE AT PROMS

Thank God for digital cameras, right? God only knows how many dollars we would have given to companies like Kodak and Fuji Saturday if we were still using film.

If there are two rules when it comes to prom — which was held at both New Hampton and Turkey Valley Saturday night — they are these: No. 1, our kids are going to dress to the nines and No. 2, we are going to take a gazillion pictures, give or take a million.

But seriously, if there is a social event on the school or community calendar, it is prom. We pack ourselves into our gyms, ooh and ah at the kids and sometimes, we have to try to figure out who they are because we’re so used to seeing them in sweats.

There are traditions that go with prom — from the firing off of confetti to the parent-student dance at Turkey Valley — but in the end, it’s a night to celebrate our kids and the memories they undoubtedly make during prom.

And like we said, we have the pictures to prove it, too.

Braving the elements to help prevent suicides

Despite a turn by the weather, Everyone Hurts event organizers say annual run/walk/bike is another success

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

The drizzle was falling and the wind was blowing when Dawn Heying asked the question last Friday evening. “How many people still want to run or walk?”

Scores of hands went up, and she couldn’t help but laugh as she said, “You’re all nuts.”

Yet, the number of people who turned out to the annual Everyone Hurts Their Fight Is Our Fight 5K warmed the heart of Heying, the New Hampton resident who has been instrumental in an organization that advocates for suicide prevention and mental health awareness.

“I was amazed, just utterly amazed, considering the weather,” she said. “It was beautiful until 4 p.m. and then it turned so quickly I was just hoping a few people would come out. To see the number of people supporting us — not just the runners, the walkers and the bikers, but everyone— it means the world to all of us.”

Everyone Hurts is a 501c3 non-profit organization that was started after Heying’s daughter, Brittney, died from suicide in the summer of 2020. This year’s run was held two days before what would have been Brittney’s 26th birthday, and her mother admitted that she felt the “feels” this year more than she did during the first two years the event was held.

“I’m not sure why this year hit harder than it did the first couple of

County will help Nashua with dam

Board of Supervisors OKs giving city $50k for project

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

The Chickasaw County Board of Supervisors by the thinnest of margins agreed Monday to contribute $50,000 to the city of Nashua, which is trying to figure out what the next step is for its troubled dam.

Nashua Mayor Alex Anthofer told board members that the city has agreed to spend almost $180,000 for a full analysis to “determine what has to be done.” The city spent more than $1 million two years ago on dam repairs, but issues have cropped up since.

“I don’t really know what I can say and what I can’t say,” Anthofer said, “but if you see the big piece of concrete sticking up out of the water. That’s what’s getting reviewed.”

Sheriff's Office makes pitch to lease in-car, body cameras

By Bob Fenske editor@nhtrib.com

Chickasaw County Sheriff Ryan Shawver has had it happen to him and his deputies before.

They go to court to testify and they're asked if they have a body camera? Yeah. What's wrong? It didn't work.

So on Monday, Shawver and Chief Deputy Zach Nosbisch approached the Board of Supervisors about their concerns with both the in-car and body cameras the office has and presented a solution — lease seven new body cameras, seven new in-car cameras and a cloud storage system from Motorola Solutions

The total cost of the five-year lease would be $99,700, with $24,100 due the first year and $18,900 due in years two through five.

"The biggest thing is everybody has the same system," Nosbisch said. "You're not dealing with multiple systems and multiple devices. Especially with our cameras — in-car and body cams — those are what cover us liability wise, not only the officers but the county as well."

The best part of the deal, according to Shawver, is that the equipment would be under a no-fault warranty throughout the lease, and in the third year, officers will receive new body cameras.

"The warranty, that was a big selling point for us," Shawver said.

He and Nosbisch both said going to a leasing program will help with budgets because for five years, the Sheriff's Office would know up front what its annual costs are for cameras.

Shawver said that he felt his 2023-24 budget could take on the $24,100 leasing costs without a budget amendment.

Supervisors were supportive of the lease but held off on approving it until County Attorney David Laudner could review the lease to make sure it fit within the county's purchasing policy.

Also on Monday, the board approved the request for proposals put together by Chickasaw County EMS Director Joel Knutson for a used ambulance the service would like to buy as a "backup" rig to the two new ambulances the supervisors purchased this past fall.

The RFP is asking dealers to submit bids on 2010 or newer ambulances with gasoline engines.

It also requests that a warranty be in place for the module body and interior cabinets and that an ambulance be outfitted with power-load cot.

The price range, the county is willing to pay, according to the RFP that will be sent out, is up to $180,000.

The proposal passed on a 4-1 vote, with Jake Hackman casting the lone dissenting vote because dealers can submit bids via email, which he said concerns him when it comes to a sealed-bid process.

RAGBRAI : FROM 1

He added that if "we have to move it, that is $1.3 million." He pointed out that the lake created by the dam has shoreline that is not within the city limits of Nashua, which is why he was requesting county help.

"I don't know what you have for a budget," Anthofer said. "I know we're all struggling."

Asked if the city still had some American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds left, Anthofer said it did but that it was "not a ton — not enough to cover that."

Supervisor Jake Hackman said he felt the county could help the city with funds from the interest it has received from its own ARPA funds.

"I understand the economic development of that dam, of that lake," he said, "and that brings a lot of people into the county."

Board Chairman Matt Kuhn said another possibility was using county betterment funds but pointed out that the account "is strapped." He also expressed concern about "opening that box" that would lead other cities to request county help, although Kuhn did concede the Board of Supervisors has contributed funds to various city trails, pools and other projects in the past.

Anthofer said the analysis consisted of both engineering and having divers check out the issues with the dam, and Supervisor Scott Cerwinske, whose district includes Nashua, made the motion to contribute $50,000, pending the approval of a budget amendment, to the city effort.

"To me, that's a perfect need right now of the [ARPA] interest," Hackman said. "Everybody needs, I get that, but I also realize it's a big need for that part of the county."

Cerwinske, Hackman and Travis Suckow supported the motion while both Kuhn and Steve Breitbach voted no.

Let's be Godly men!

Men need to step up and become the men God built us to be

We have so many good role models in the Bible, and they show us characteristics of men of God.

God took Gideon's fear and turned him into a great general of Israel. Moses was a murderer with a speech impediment, and yet God showed him how to lead his people out of Egypt.

God placed a calling on the heart of Nehemiah and called him to action. David killed Goliath with one stone because of God's provision.

He equips us and provides for us but we need to go out and do something with it.

Gentlemen, if we aren't satisfied with the state of the church or the world then it's time for us to do our part. Step up and become the men God built us to be. He will give us the stone, but we still have to step out in faith and throw it.

Lead. Initiate. Be a man of action. Assume it is your job and your moment. Hate apathy. Reject passivity.

For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man who looks intently at his natural face in a mirror. For he looks at himself and goes away and at once forgets what he was like. But the one who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer who forgets but a doer who acts, he will be blessed in his

Can you benefit from a 529 plan?

Another school year is coming to a close. And if you have young children, they're now a year closer to heading off to college or some other type of post-secondary education or training. So, if you haven't already done so, you may want to start preparing for these costs.

And they can be considerable. During the 2022-23 school year, the average estimated annual cost (tuition, fees, room and board, books, supplies, transportation and other personal expenses) was nearly $28,000 for public four-year in-state schools and more than $57,000 for private nonprofit four-year schools, according to the College Board.

Of course, some students don't pay the full bill for college. Any grants and scholarships they receive can bring down the "sticker price." Still, there's often a sizable amount that students and their families must come up with. To help fill this gap, you may want to explore various strategies, one of which is a 529 education savings plan.

A 529 plan offers several key benefits. First of all, your earnings can grow tax deferred and your withdrawals are federally tax free when used for qualified education expenses, such as tuition, fees, books and so on. You may be eligible to invest in a 529 plan in most states, but depending on where you live, you may be able to deduct your contributions from your state income tax or possibly receive a state tax credit for investing in your home state's 529 plan. Tax issues for 529 plans can be complex. Please consult your tax advisory about your situation.

And 529 plans aren't just for college. You may be able to use one to pay K-12 expenses, up to $10,000 per student per year. (However, not all states comply with this 529 expansion for K-12, so you might not be able to claim deductions and your withdrawals could be subject to state tax penalties.)

A 529 plan can also be used to pay for most expenses connected to apprenticeship programs registered with the U.S.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Department of Labor. These programs are often available at community colleges and combine classroom education with on-the-job training.

Furthermore, you can now withdraw funds from a 529 plan to repay qualified federal private and student loans, up to $10,000 for each 529 plan beneficiary and another $10,000 for each of the beneficiary's siblings.

But what if you've named a child as a 529 plan beneficiary and that child doesn't want to pursue any type of advanced education? If this happens, you, as the account owner, are free to name another family member as beneficiary.

And beginning in 2024, you may have even more flexibility if a child foregoes college or other post-secondary education. Due to the passing of the Secure Act 2.0 in December 2022, unused 529 plan funds of up to $35,000 may be eligible to roll over to a Roth IRA of the designated beneficiary.

One of the qualifications for this rollover is to have had your 529 plan for at least 15 years. To determine if you qualify for this rollover, you will want to consult your tax advisor.

A 529 plan has a lot to offer — and it might be something to consider for your family's future.

Withdrawals used for expenses other than qualified education expenses may be subject to federal and state taxes, plus a 10% penalty. Make sure to discuss the potential financial aid impacts with a financial aid professional.

Pool to open May 29; Parks and Rec still has open positions to fill

We're not that far away from the swimming season as the New Hampton Parks and Recreation Department has announced that the pool's opening day this year will be on Memorial Day, Monday, May 29.

Parks and Rec Director Tara Hackman said earlier this week that unlike in recent years, the lifeguard situation at the pool looks promising. But she added that the department is still short on concession stand and pool slide workers, and those interested in applying for the position can stop by the Parks and Rec office or call Hackman at 641-394-5464.

Hackman also reminded residents that "early-bird" pool passes must be purchased by Thursday, May 18, to get reduced prices.

Maybe the biggest challenge heading into summer, though, is the still vacant director position for the Start Smart T-ball program. The director oversees student coaches for the program that consists of kids ranging from preschoolers to those in second grade. He or she also plans the practices and sets up the game days that the program runs.

"We'd love to talk to anyone that's interested," Hackman said. "It's a really fun and rewarding position, and it's a critical need for us."

The program is held throughout the month of June during weekday mornings at Mikkelsen Park.

EVERYONE HURTS: FROM 1

years," Heying said, "but I think one of the things we've all learned is that it doesn't get easier, it just changes, if that makes sense. What helps is knowing that there is a community out there that supports you, that wants to take on the issue. We have such a great committee, and we know that the best way to move forward is to try to make a difference."

And Everyone Hurts has done just that in its short but fruitful life.

The organization has awarded scholarships to area residents who are working on getting into mental health fields, it has helped fund guest speakers for both the community and its schools, it helps those who can't afford treatment get it and in the past year, it has made packets and delivered them to area funeral homes to help those grieving.

Everybody Hurts is also starting a grief program for those affected by suicide that will be held the fourth Sunday of every month, beginning in June.

Its biggest annual fundraiser is the run it held this past Friday, and despite Mother Nature's challenges, the shelter house where the opening ceremonies were held was packed to hear comments from a number of speakers, including family psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner Sara King, who emphasized the need to reach out.

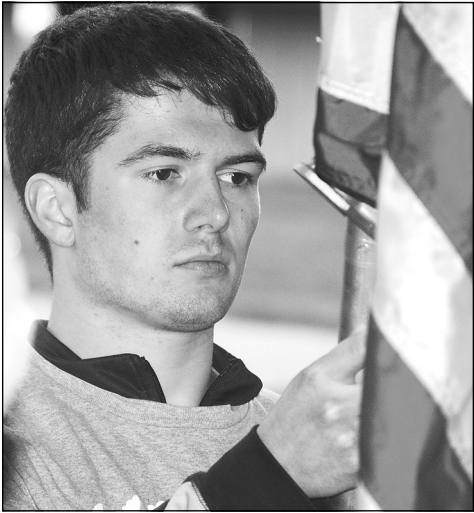

"We are not alone," she said, "and I think that's one of the things that we have to get across. If you're struggling, reach out. If you know someone who is struggling, reach out. I can't stress that enough. It's like anything in life, when you can walk through something with someone else, it's so much easier."

And then came the run/walk/bike, which was won by New Hampton eighth-grader Sophie Glaser, who finished one second ahead of New Hampton High School junior Leander Reicks. The reality, though, is everyone was a winner on Friday.

"Even though it was hard, it was emotional," Heying said, "it felt really good to know that we were raising money for a good cause, a great cause. And we were spreading the word that you're never alone."

Dorothy M. Schmauss, 95

Dorothy M. Schmauss, age 95 of Cresco, died on Thursday, April 27, 2023, at Wildwood Grove in LeRoy, Minnesota.

Dorothy was born to Edward and Marie (Benson) Gerber on Oct. 7, 1927, in Cresco. Dorothy grew up around Cresco, and attended rural country school. She worked at the local bakery and happened to meet the love of her life, Arnold Schmauss, at work.

Dorothy married Arnold at the Assumption Church on June 9, 1953, and later became a member of the Notre Dame Catholic Church. They had the biggest wedding dance out at the roller rink in town. Arnold and Dorothy had two daughters, Janice and Arnella, and one son, James.

Dorothy loved cooking and baking, she made and decorated cakes for all occasions for her family, including birthdays and graduations. She baked the most delectable cinnamon rolls and apple pies you could imagine.

She was also an excellent quilter. She made quilts for all the grandkids, and also donated various quilts and quilting materials.

Dorothy was quite the witty comedian and enjoyed cracking jokes whenever she could. She always had a quick quip ready for any occasion that warranted it.

She even was the founder of the Card Club at the Senior Citizens Center in Cresco. There was nothing she couldn't do, she was a farmer's wife and could do all that Arnold could do without complaint. Dorothy recently was the recipient of the prestigious Conservation

Dorothy Schmauss

Woman of the Year Award.

Verla Jean Steege, 83

Verla Jean Steege, age 83 of Fredericksburg, died peacefully Thursday, April 13, 2023, at Allen Memorial Hospital in Waterloo.

Funeral services were held 11 a.m. Friday, April 28, 2023, at the Peace United Church of Christ in Fredericksburg with the Rev. Scott Smith officiating.

Burial followed in Zion Lutheran Church Cemetery in Readlyn. There was a two-hour visitation before the service at the church, beginning at 9 a.m.

Those unable to attend Verla's funeral service could join the family via Livestream by visiting her obituary page on the funeral home website, www.hugebackfuneralhome.com.

Hugeback-Johnson Funeral Home and Crematory of Fredericksburg was entrusted with arrangements. Online condolences for the Steege family may be left at www.hugebackfuneralhome.com.

Verla Jean Bartels was born on Nov. 3, 1939, to Elmer and Viola (Brandt) Bartels in Tripoli. She was baptized on Dec. 3, 1939, at Zion Lutheran Church, Readlyn. Her father died of illness on February 29, 1940, when she was 4 months old. Verla and her mother resided with her grandparents, Adolf and Amanda Bartels, until Feb. 3, 1943, when her mother married Harry Thoms. They moved to his farm west of Waverly.

Verla received her grade school education at St. Paul's Lutheran Church School in Waverly. She confirmed her faith at St. Paul's on April 11, 1954. She attended Waverly High School from 1954 to 1958. She served as editor of the school newspaper and of the literary publication. She was a member of the National Honor Society and salutatorian of her graduating class.

Verla attended Wartburg College for two years — then taught for two years in La Porte City, continuing to gain summer school credits.

She met Larry at a wedding dance in June 1961, at the Riviera Ballroom in Janesville. They continued dating, mostly dancing and roller skating, while Verla finished a year of teaching and her last year of college. On Valentine's Day 1963, they became engaged.

A month after her college graduation, on a very hot Sunday June 30, 1963, Verla married the love of her life, Larry Steege, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Waverly. They honeymooned for a month, mostly sleeping in a tent to save money. They visited the Badlands, Black Hills, Yellowstone and Oregon, where they spent a week with Larry's brother and family.

The couple farmed near Fredericksburg, acquiring land from neighbors and Larry's father. Verla taught first grade at Nashua from 1963 to 1967.

They had two beautiful daughters. Vicki was born in May 1968, and Karla in June 1970.

Verla began teaching again in 1973 at the Fredericksburg Elementary School in Title I Reading and the talented and gifted program. She obtained a reading endorsement and also trained in reading recovery. She started Odyssey of the Mind at Fredericksburg in 1990, a national youth creative problem-solving organization. She served as a regional and state judge and a state-level judge trainer.

Verla had a mastectomy for breast cancer in the summer of 1993. She had 12 rounds of chemotherapy during the school year, only missing school a half-day for each one. She retired in 2004 with 37 years of teaching, 31 of them in Fredericksburg.

She volunteered at school — doing fall and spring reading testing from 2004 to 2017. She also volunteered at Denver Elementary, where two of her grandchildren were students. She became office manager as she and Larry continued to farm in retirement.

Verla loved books and reading to her grandchildren from her large collection.

Verla and Larry traveled to almost every U.S. state, Europe, and England. After Verla retired, they went to Alaska and Hawaii and took two cruises, with a highlight being a cruise through the Panama Canal.

In 2010, they began taking their family of 11, which included five grandchildren, on family vacations. They went to

- As the New Hampton Chamber Choir members sang "I Carry Your Heart," the tears came and everyone in the room Sunday afternoon realized just how powerful music can be.
- Usually, it's the finale of the Coffeehouse Concert that brings students, especially seniors, to tears and while "In This Very Room" in 2018 was emotional, "I Carry Your Heart," stole the show.
- The song was performed in memory of Daisy Rodriguez, a Class of 2018 member who was killed in a tragic car accident three years ago in Minnesota.

Verla was active in the Peace UCC church family. She taught Sunday school most of her adult life. She was the Sunday school director for five years and served on the Christian Education Committee for 58 years. Verla taught a confirmation class for many years and helped start a junior high youth group, serving as one of its leaders from 1967 to 1973. She started helping serve in her congregation's turn at the senior citizen meal site in 2010. In 2013 she became the Compassion leader and wrote letters to the congregation's two Compassion children and her own child, Teirseit Fikne.

In 2016 Verla started God's Love on Wednesday, an evening family night. She told a Bible story, sometimes with children in costumes, and led games. Verla loved to dance. She and Larry went to Polka Club dances with their friends. She sang in the church choir about 35 years. She enjoyed spending time attending the grandchildren's plays, concerts, and competitions.

Verla liked to read and was an avid Bible reader, underlining passages in her four Bibles and planning her own Sunday school lessons. She firmly believed in the power of prayer. Verla was proud of having spent her adult life until age 80 teaching Sunday school.

On June 13, 2021, a fireside room was dedicated in honor of Verla during the worship service at Peace Church. The planning and furnishing of the room was done by her fellow Christian Education team.

At the end of her life, Verla could still recite the 66 books of the Bible, the 23rd and 100th Psalms, and numerous hymns memorized in grade school.

Survivors are her best friend and husband of 60 years, Larry; two daughters, Vicki (Tim) Sommerfeldt and Karla Krueger; five grandchildren, Kayleigh, Sierra, and Isaac Sommerfeldt, and Karter and Karris Krueger; and two sisters, Janice Johnson and Marilyn Herlli.

She was preceded in death by her father, mother and step-father, as well as five brothers-in-law, Nathan Johnson, Robert Herlli, John Steege, Marvin Ackerman, and Marlowe Steege.

great, but it was sad, too.” Coffeehouse, of course, is a tradition — one few schools have.

Every year, on the afternoon following prom, New Hampton’s vocalists and instrumentalists take the stage — actually, the gym floor — dressed in their finest to play the high school’s spring concert. They may be tired, but they almost always rise to the occasion.

And 2023 was certainly not an exception.

For almost two hours, they sang, they played, they, the seniors at least, celebrated with their parents and they wrapped up Coffeehouse with the singing of “In This Very Room.” Some of those seniors cried a little, too, but that’s OK because it shows just how much music has meant to Pethoud, Kendra Pickar, Ali Russler, Bailey Cox, Aydin Ries, Mason Sobolik, Annala Elliott, Logan Fettkether, Kelli Jirak, Ashley Rosonke, Izabel Willadsen, Kaydence Zack, Koryn Lane and Corbin Lewisab.

In addition to being honored during the senior recognition program, several of the seniors also were presented awards by Choir Director Jill Cantu and Band Director Justin Adam.

“This is always the tough part for Jill and I,” Adam said. “We keep telling ourselves we won’t cry, but heads up, we probably will. It’s always hard to say goodbye to seniors who have done so much for our programs.”

Band awards went to Russler (Instrumentalist Award of Merit), Pethoud (Iowa Bandmasters Association Award of Merit), Ries (Instrumentalist Musicianship Award), Sobolik (Louis Armstrong Jazz Award) and Cox (John Philip Sousa Band Award).

Meanwhile, Rosonke (Outstanding Senior Choral Award) and Jirak (National School Choral Award) were presented the choir’s top awards.

For Jirak, spring hasn’t exactly gone to plan.

The senior suffered a broken leg during a soccer game a couple of weeks ago, which meant she was on crutches for both prom and Coffeehouse, but Jirak is the eternal optimist. When she sings, for example, there’s little doubt that she puts her heart and soul into her song.

She smiled through it all on Sunday, and though the tears weren’t there, there’s little doubt that Coffeehouse stirred her heart.

“I’m so excited about getting done that I’m just trying to enjoy it all,” she said. “I wouldn’t say, for me, it was bittersweet, but at the same time, today meant a lot to me. I’ve made so many friends through music, and instead of focusing on the fact that it’s done, I’m just enjoying the memories I made and the people I met.”

LIVING THE DREAM

NOLAN WEBSTER FOLLOWS THE PLAN HE DEvised LONG AGO

BY BOB FENSKE
 editor@nhtrib.com

Nolan Webster had a plan. He followed it to a proverbial T. And so as he stood in the corral with his cattle this past Sunday afternoon, the smile was genuine; after all, he's living the life he planned for himself when he was just a kid. He's farming. He's raising cattle. He's home. "When I graduated from New Hampton," Webster said, "I knew I was going to go to college, but I also knew I wanted to come back. It wasn't trying to come back; it was really I'm coming home." The 2015 New Hampton High School graduate earned a degree in ag studies and agronomy at Iowa State, and when he walked across that stage in December 2018, the plan was executed. He landed a job with AgVantage FS as an agronomist and began farming with his dad, Mike, and his uncle, Jim.

Cattle represents 'own thing' for young farmer

WEBSTER: FROM 8

But as much as Webster loves working in the field and producing crops, he wanted more. He wanted his "own thing," and so he followed in the footsteps of his late grandfather, Bob Webster, and became a cattleman.

"I'd been farming with Dad and Jim," Webster said, "but I've always liked livestock, and Grandpa always had cattle. I've always liked cattle better than pigs — don't get me wrong, I love a good pork loin and my bacon — but if I was going to do my own thing, get into something, it was going to be cattle."

Today, he raises feeder cattle. The animals that come into his "yard" weigh between 600 and 700 pounds, and he, as the name implies, feeds them, fattens them up, if you will. It may not be dairy, but make no mistake about it, feeder cattle are a time commitment.

Webster makes daily visits to Webster Farms which is located a few miles to the east of Jerico, where his grandmother, Ann, still resides.

He feeds, waters and beds the cattle. He makes sure they're staying healthy, which can be a challenge, especially with the kinds of winters Northeast Iowa has endured the past couple of years. And, of course, he stops in and talks with Grandma almost every day.

"I think she was probably the most for me doing this," he said with a laugh, "because she knew I'd be out here all the time. I make sure to at least go into the house to say hi, but seriously, it's one of my favorite parts of my day."

His operation has slowly grown. When he first started raising cattle, his herd numbered around 10, but as he talked at Webster Farms on a cool, gray Sunday afternoon, more than 50 cows were gathered in the pen. Webster's operation includes about half indoor cover and half outdoor cover.

Winters, though, are challenging, especially with the wild temperature fluctuations that the past two seasons have brought.

"It's hot and cold — OK, warm for winter," he said with a laugh. "You're at 30 degrees one day, zero the next, and so the air is damp. We don't like it as people, and cattle, they're no different. We can all get used to it if it just stays the same, but then again, it's Iowa, right?"

WEBSTER'S INTEREST in agriculture — and cattle, for that matter — began at an early age.

He was always going to the farm with his dad, and his grandfather, Bob Webster, raised cattle. One of the prized pictures in the Webster household is one taken in July 2009, when Nolan and Bob were photographed together with a cow at the Chickasaw County 4-H and FFA Achievement Show. It would be their last show together, for Bob passed away in December of that year.

"He was a great grandpa, and he — along with Dad and Jim — they taught me a lot about farming, a lot about agriculture," he said. "They led me to it, really, and I just had a passion for it ever since."

During high school, Webster was active in the New Hampton FFA program, serving as its president.

"I think one of the things that we learned is that it's important to give back, to advocate for ag," he said. "For me, FFA just kind of reminded me why I wanted to farm, why I wanted to work in agriculture."

His FFA advisor, Jim Russ, said he's proud to see FFA alumni like Webster become advocates for the industry. Webster is on the board of the Chickasaw County Cattlemen's Association and also involved with the Farm Bureau.

"If we don't tell our story about agriculture," Russ said, "I always tell the kids, 'Who will?' People think that milk

Spring is busy time of the year for agronomist, farmer, cattleman comes from a carton, that steaks and pork chops come from the store. I think one thing I'll always remember about Nolan is that he spoke well. He had a passion for agriculture and he wanted to pass that on to people so they could understand what all goes into it."

WEBSTER: FROM 9

AT THE AGE of 26, Webster is, in a word busy. He works as an agronomist at AgVantage FS' Sumner office, he farms with his father and uncle and he's raising his cattle.

And while his herd is small by some standards, he's off to a good start.

"I'm out here every day — doing chores, making sure they're staying healthy, bedding and feeding," he said.

"When it comes to the health of the cattle, I want to be offensive, not defensive."

He also gets a little help — and sometimes, some friendly advice — from his dad.

"He's my herdsman," Webster said with a laugh, "and he always says this is your project, but he'll give me advice, too. You know, I'm a kid really, so sometimes it's hard to take advice from your dad, but seriously, I appreciate it. I know he wants what's best for me."

The planting season obviously is up and running, which means Webster, the agronomist, is busy, as is Webster, the farmer, and Webster, the cattleman.

"I'm loving every minute of it," he said. "Am I busy? Heck yeah, but this is what I've always wanted to do."

Huxley establishment has state's top burger

BY ANN THELEN AND KYLIE PETERSON
Iowa Beef Industry Council

When Marianne and Matt Pacha moved to Huxley six years ago, they immediately felt at home with the sense of community the central Iowa town of 4,500 provided.

The intersection of community and family values with a desire to create a restaurant with a hometown feel led the Pachas to develop and open Flight Bar + Grille in 2022.

With a name inspired by the local Ballard school district's mascot — the Ballard Bombers — the restaurant offers a first-class experience with its elite menu, including "The Foundation," which was crowned this year's Iowa's Best Burger.

Other menu items give a nod to the aviation theme with Flight Fries with house-made aioli sauces, Bomber Sliders, the Flight Club and a kids' menu for pilots in training, featuring Jet Sliders named for the town's youth football program mascot.

2023 Iowa's Best Burger

"Our Foundation is a double-smash burger with cheddar cheese. It includes mustard aioli, lettuce, tomato, caramelized onions and is topped with thick-cut bacon served between a beautiful and buttery brioche bun," explains Katie Boughey, executive chef and kitchen manager. "We use simple seasonings — salt and pepper — to let the beef's flavor be the star of the burger."

The burger features 80% lean, fresh ground beef — the ideal ratio for creating outstanding flavor. The never-frozen and Midwest-sourced beef is rolled into a meatball and then smashed straight on the grill with a steak weight to give it a crisp crust.

The crust preserves the juices inside, resulting in a perfectly cooked burger that makes the food an exceptional experience. House-made pickles and flight fries (aptly dubbed the most delicious fries you've ever tasted!) round out a plate of goodness that has taken off for patrons of this restaurant turned must-visit destination. It's one of a half dozen mouth-watering burgers on Flight's menu.

Foundation burger is special for its award-winning flavor and has become a community favorite for another reason.

"For every Foundation Burger that we sell, we donate $1 to the Ballard Education Foundation," Matt says. "It was the inspiration for the burger's name, and it's been in place since we opened Flight. It's important to us to give back to the community, and this is one way we can contribute."

In the Pachas' first year of business, they donated more than $3,000 to the Ballard Education Foundation, which funds its local schools, the Ballard Community School District. After being named a Top 10 Iowa's Best Burger Finalist, they shattered their one-month record by raising $700 for the Ballard Education Foundation.

The designation as Iowa's Best Burger comes after a two-phase competition sponsored by the Iowa Cattlemen's Association and Iowa Beef Industry Council. The first phase is based on votes from the public.

For a month, burger lovers voted for their favorite Iowa burger online, submitting nearly 6,500 votes representing more than 500 restaurants. At the end of the month, the 10 restaurants with the most votes are declared the "Top 10." From there, several anonymous judges visit each of the restaurants, scoring the burger patties based on taste, doneness and presentation.

and stirring occasionally.

Cook's Tip: Cooking times are for fresh or thoroughly thawed Ground Beef. Ground beef should be cooked to an internal temperature of 160°F. Color is not a reliable indicator of ground beef doneness.

Sitir in pasta sauce, water and pepper. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally.

Remove from heat. Stir in pasta. Spoon heaping teaspoons ricotta cheese over top of sauce. Slightly swirl ricotta into sauce, not mixing in completely.

Cover and bake in 375°F oven 10 minutes. Uncover. Sprinkle with mozzarella cheese.

Bake 7 to 10 minutes or until pasta is tender. Let stand 5 minutes. Sprinkle with basil before serving.

Skillet-Stovetop Method: Prepare recipe as directed above using 12-inch nonstick skillet and adding uncooked pasta with pasta sauce, water and pepper in step 2. Bring to a boil, stirring occasionally.

Reduce heat; cover and cook on stovetop 8 to 11 minutes (13 to 15 minutes for regular bow tie pasta) or until pasta is tender, stirring once. Remove from heat. Swirl ricotta into sauce as directed in step 2. Sprinkle with mozzarella cheese. Cover and let stand 5 minutes or until mozzarella cheese is melted.

Cook's Tip: Six ounces uncooked regular bow tie (farfalle) pasta (about 2-1/3 cups) may be substituted. Increase uncovered baking time to 10 to 13 minutes.

Brincks, Holschlag fire 49s against Waverly-Shell Rock

NH TRAP: FROM 18

world on fire with their score at the Cresco Wildlife Club Trap Range last week Tuesday, the Chickasaws did down Waverly-Shell Rock, Charles City and Nashua-Plainfield two days later on Thursday at home.

“We have a pretty rigorous schedule,” said Matthews. “I can’t say enough about this group of kids – just coming in, digging in and doing what they need to do.”

New Hampton battled high winds and the shotguns of Oelwein this past Monday. The Huskies just fell short of New Hampton’s top team – NH Red (223) – by five clays.

NH Black (236) topped W-SR Black (232) by four clays on Thursday.

The Cresco Area Clay Crushers swept the top three squad positions on Tuesday.

“Not so great,” said Matthews about his team’s performance at Cresco. “It’s a very difficult background for us. Our kids aren’t used to it.”

Thursday at home was a different story as senior Josie Fuerstenberg was the top girl with a 48. She was a member of NH Gold on that day.

“The weather’s been a plus. It hasn’t been nearly as rainy or snowy as it was last year,” said Fuerstenberg.

Nick Brincks and Aaron Holschlag each fired 49s against W-SR, CC and N-P. Holschlag (49-22) came out on top to claim the top prize as he outlasted Brincks (49-16), the Go-Hawks’ Jacob Deike (49-14-4) and W-SR’s Tristan Froelich (49-13-3) in a shoot-off. Holschlag knocked down 22 clays in 25 tries in the shoot-off round.

Another Chickasaw senior – Tanner Njus – also fired a 48 on Thursday.

“Last year we had a hard time trying to figure out who

Kelly Terpstra/Tribune

New Hampton trapshooter Caleb Utley competes last week Thursday in a meet versus Waverly-Shell Rock, Charles City and Nashua-Plainfield.

was good on what squad and who was shooting good with who. All our squads are pretty well placed together,” said Njus.

Isaak Schwickerath also shot a 48 on Thursday at home. Schwickerath, along with Trinity Schwickerath – both fired rounds of 46 on Monday.

Matthews talked about his squad’s winning tradition. That’s motivation for this 2023 bunch to keep it growing and to put a lasting impression on future generations of Chickasaws that will take to the trap range once they’re old enough.

“We’re fortunate enough that we have a lot of trapshooting families. So we have a fair amount of kids that kind of come up in the sport. So that helps a lot,” said Matthews.

Trojan boys linksters shoot season-low 176

By Kelly Terpstra
sports@nhtrib.com

Oliver Schmitt took home medalist honors and the Turkey Valley boys golf team shot a season-low 176 in dual win over Central Elkader at Jackson Heights Golf Course last week Thursday.

The Trojans topped the Warriors by a score of 176 to 192.

Schmitt earned his medal by firing a red-hot 38 on the par-36 home course of the Trojans. “Oliver Schmitt was really dialed in tonight,” said TV head coach John Reicks.

Schmitt, a junior, was steady in his nine-hole effort with three bogeys and a birdie.

really tall girl from Bishop Garrigan. She's really cool and I was standing by her. That was probably my favorite part was throwing against her,” smiled Schmitt.

Schmitt will have her chance later this spring to get back to state as Crooks – Miss Basketball in the state of Iowa and an Iowa State signee – will more than likely be in attendance near the blue oval where the state field events take place. Schmitt still has a little work to do in order to be at her best when the state qualifier rolls around next week Thursday in Northwood.

At last year's state qualifier – Schmitt came up aces.

“My favorite was definitely qualifying for state. It was so cool because I threw my personal best and it was my first time I ever broke 100,” said Schmitt.

Schmitt threw a personal-best in the shot put (33 feet) at Decorah last month. She also PR'd in the discus last week Tuesday at Clayton Ridge with a heave of 97-2.5.

“This year 1A is a little more competitive so I'm definitely going to have to pop off a good one here pretty soon,” said Schmitt.

At times, it's been tough sled-ding this spring for Schmitt to be able to reach her goals in the challenging field events.

“This year I've had a harder time getting back up to where I

Trojan junior teammate Caleb Kurtenbach was medalist runner-up with a 42 and senior Calvin Bodensteiner was a stroke back of that with a 43.

“We got to play 13 guys tonight. It was nice to see the course filled with a lot of red shirts,” said Reicks.

The TV girls lost by just two strokes to Central – 243-245.

TV junior Mariah Thronson shot her season-low with a 60. She was followed by senior Abby Schmitt (61), Halle Weber (62), Sofia Rivera (62) and Annika Bodensteiner (62).

The TV boys took on Class 2A squads Sumner-Fredericksburg and New Hampton last week Tuesday at Meadowbrook Golf Course in Sumner. TV fired a 195 and was once again led by Schmitt, who fired a 44.

MFL-Mar-Mac took on the Trojans on Monday at Tri-City Golf Course in Luana. The TV boys lost 164-192 to the Bulldogs, while the TV girls saw MFL win, 225 to 265.

Ryan Franzen gets ready for the 400 dash on Monday.

Trojans look toward qualifier

TV BOYS TRACK: FROM 17

“Once you get to the place that you're competing – that's all your focused on,” said Hanson. “It's not too hard for me to really lock in because when you're in the moment – the moment is the most important.”

Hanson will still compete in baseball this summer after his track season is over. That doesn't mean he won't miss track – which gives him the opportunity to compete, run and have fun with his fellow Trojans.

“Last year I would always go home from these with my mom. Now I've just been riding the bus home because I'm just trying to cherish these last few moments as a teammate that I have left,” Hanson said.

For Franzen, a football standout for Scott's Trojan football squad – just like Hanson – knows the end is near on his prep athletic career. After the spring is over – he's officially done with Turkey Valley athletics.

“I guess this is really it for me. I'm closing the yearbook after this,” said a smiling Franzen.

Franzen won the open 400 in 53.61. He ran a 52.69 at Starmont on Friday.

Hanson is ranked 15th in the state in the open 200 with a season-best time of 22.87. He clipped out to a 23.25 on Monday to win the race in Calmar.

TV's 4x200 relay – ranked 19th in the state according to the website Bound – also took home first place in Calmar with a run of 1:39.36. The squad was made up of Burke Busta, Hayek, Schmitt and Hanson.

As of Tuesday, TV currently sits as the fifth-fastest squad in Class 1A in the 4x400 with a time of 3:32.5. The group that holds that time is Hanson, Hayek, Busta and Franzen.

“We usually have lower numbers and about four to six guys that are really good,” said Hanson about TV's state chances. “That's usually how we get down there every year.”

Turkey Valley placed runner-up to Alburnett (193) in the team standings with 68.

The Trojans also competed at Clayton Ridge on Tuesday, April 25.

Pickar, Ella Knutson and Tegan Dungey won that race in 10:48 at Denver.

“We knew we wanted to see our 400 kids in at least one 4, and our 800 kids in at least one 8. Everyone had just two events with plenty of rest,” said Laues.

The NH shuttle hurdle squad ran 1:18 and took home the gold with the team of Rochford, Knutson, Cora Schwickerath and Addison Trower. Trower PR'd with her clip in that hurdles race.

“Addison has really improved in that event this season, and has played a key role in many of our relays,” said Laues.

New Hampton boys sizzle in golf win over the Go-Hawks

By KELLY TERPSTRA
sports@nhtrib.com

Just how low can New Hampton go? Or precisely – how low will they have to go?

In order to crack the state tournament field this year – the Chickasaws and head coach Bill Glenn may need to record a round the NEIC squad has never touched in the past two seasons over the course of 18 holes of play.

At least last Thursday in a nine-hole home dual versus Waverly-Shell Rock – New Hampton proved it has what it takes to at least beg the question.

Can the Chickasaws replicate those scores in the one-day, 18-hole qualifier and break on through to state?

“I just know they’re capable,” said Glenn. “The good news is we’re back here in two weeks – 13 days – on this course at the sectional tournament with a lot more on the line.”

The Chickasaws dipped even lower at home against the Go-Hawks as they fired a 152 – highlighted by junior Jack Shawver’s super-impressive two-under-par 34.

That’s the lowest score carded by a Chickasaw – at least in nine holes – in the 13 years Glenn has been leader of the Chickasaw golf program.

“Jack’s shooting out of his mind,” said fellow Chickasaw junior Ty Robinson. “The kid can’t get over 40 now.”

“I was puttin’ ‘em close – making easy par putts for myself,” said Shawver. “I just focus on playing my game and not trying to outdo myself.”

That 34 was Shawver’s career-low round on nine holes. Shawver birdied holes No. 7 and 9. The rest of his round were all pars. His previous best nine-hole total was 36.

“There’s not too much to complain about,” said Shawver. “The big thing is just scrambling. You hit a bad shot, you just gotta go play the safe shot out of it – try to make par.”

“That’s a helluva score,” said Glenn about his team’s 152. “We had a lot of good shots today.”

NH’s third 18-hole round of the year was completed at the Fairfield Invite this past Monday. The three-hour trek down south to Glenn’s alma mater – he’s a 1987 Fairfield High School grad – saw the Chickasaws record a 336. The host Trojans won the meet with a 322 – Albia was second with a 331.

NH junior Kyler Glenn led the way for the Chickasaws in Fairfield with a 79.

New Hampton’s low round this spring in 18 holes of play came at Decorah (323).

Will the Chickasaws need to duplicate another 150ish round – twice? That score of around 300 may be what it would take to vault New Hampton to state for the first time since 2019 under the direction of Glenn.

“If we could get that down to 150 and do that twice. In 2A golf, a 300 is usually going to get you there. If somebody beats that, let’s tip our hat to ‘em,” said Glenn.

NH sophomore Adam Ewert continued his assault on golf courses as he shot a two-over par 38. Ewert also carded that same 38 on the road last week Friday at Waukon Golf & Country Club against the host Indians.

“Getting off the tee today – I was finding fairways,” said Ewert about his effort versus W-SR. “I was just around the girls handled the conditions as well as they could. Mentally, playing in wind like we saw [Monday] is grueling. You’re just going to have to realize the wind’s going to take your ball some places you don’t want it to go. But you can’t let one bad wind shot turn into a bad hole, and I thought we did pretty well with that.”

New Hampton sophomore Lauren Nuss continued her banner season as she won medalist honors against both Decorah (43) and Waukon (44). The nine-hole meet she didn’t win wasn’t shabby either, as her 39 was just a shot off the pace set by Waverly-Shell Rock’s Brenna Bodensteiner.

Now it gets real for the Chickasaws. Actually, it got real on Tuesday when New Hampton hosted Waterloo Columbus in an 18-hole dual meet. New Hampton will play 18 again today (Thursday) when it plays host to a triangular with Sumner-Fredericksburg and Waverly-Shell Rock.

And then it’s off to the postseason as New Hampton, the seven-time defending champion, plays the Northeast Iowa Conference tournament at Waverly, and four days later, the Chickasaws will play in the first round of the Class 2A regional tournament. It appears New Hampton will be hosting that tournament on May 12.

“It would be really nice,” Olson said. “It’s been at least 11, 12 years since we’ve hosted anything, and trust me, we’ve put on a lot of miles going to regionals. It would be great to stay at home just once.”

Chickasaw boys win two sprint relays at home meet dropped. And New Hampton really never heated up on a night when it honored its senior class that includes Hunter Serie, Cael Leistikow, Cahoy, Aiden Roberson, Peyton Anderson and Logan Peterman.

There were bright spots – the Chickasaws got wins from the sprint medley and the 4x200 – and both ran decent times despite the wind. And Anderson returned, albeit for just one race, after missing the previous two meets because of an injury.

“That was nice to see,” Jenkins said. “Obviously, he’s nowhere near 100 percent, but to get him back on the track, to get him a race, that’s a positive.”

He also liked what he saw from his winning relays.

“Maui [Hunter Serie] has really come on as a 400 guy and he’s really cemented that sprint medley,” Jenkins said, “and Braden did a good job in the 4x2 chasing down Waverly and holding off Dike.”

Still, it’s the little things that Jenkins saw that he believes must change for today’s NEIC meet and next Thursday’s Class 2A state qualifying meet in Osage.

“Again, I don’t know if we were just tired, but we were listless,” he said. “Guys hung out in back, weren’t out cheering for their teammates. That’s not good. That must change. Starting at conference.”

Coaches say Drake Relays experience will pay dividends at state meet

DRAKE: FROM 18

Chickasaws finished with a time of 4:11.67 to take 21st in the prelims.

“It’s such an outstanding accomplishment, especially considering the nature of the events, with jumping, hurdling and running,” New Hampton coach Jeanette Laures said when asked about her Iowa-bound senior qualifying for four events in consecutive years. “I wish the heptathlon was a high school event!”

And Laures said Drake has another benefit, one that she believes will help the four girls as the track season enters its stretch run.

“Running at Drake is like a dress rehearsal for state,” Laures said. “That experience competing on the Blue Oval at Drake gives kids so much more confidence at the state meet.”

That was the same feeling New Hampton boys coach Scott Jenkins had after his Chickasaws competed in two events at Drake. Marshall Zeien finished 23rd in the discus on Friday with a throw of 133-4 while the 4x100 team that included Beau Serie, Carter Cahoy, Hunter Serie and Braden McShane – which came into the meet tied for the 93rd best time in the state – won its heat in a time of 44.82 and finished 67th overall.

“I think it’s huge for our guys to get down there,” Jenkins said. “They’ve been to the stadium, they know the atmosphere and the next time – hopefully at state this year – that experience is going to pay off.”

Chickasaws conquer winds, claim team title at Denver meet

By KELLY TERPSTRA
sports@nhtrib.com

Despite at times what must have felt like gale-force winds on Monday evening at the Denver Cyclone Coed Relays – the New Hampton Chickasaws found a way.

That effort was good enough to place first in the team standings on a windy night with a total of 196 points. That team tally topped Denver (141) and third-place Hudson (123).

“It was kind of like a dual between us and Denver. It was nice to see them in person since they are in our district next week,” said NH girls track coach Jeanette Laures.

While the Chickasaws didn’t load up in any events – Laures used this meet as a tune-up/practice for the NEIC meet at home on Thursday – several productive times and throws were accomplished.

Chickasaw junior Claire Geerts recorded a personal-best in the shot put (35-11, first place) and fellow NH junior Madison Schaufenbuel did the same as she tossed 33-3 (fourth place) last week Tuesday at Waukon.

NH placed runner-up at the Waukon meet with 114 points. Decorah took first in the team standings with 160 points.

New Hampton also competed at the Crestwood Coed Relays last week Thursday. The host Cadets won the meet with 164 points and the Chickasaws finished fifth (55).

New Hampton senior Carlee Rochford won the 100 hurdles at Waukon in 15.78 and Taylor Ries also reeled in a blue ribbon in the 400 hurdles with a PR of 1:10.

Chickasaw junior Hailee Pesek was runner-up in the 200 dash at Waukon with a season-best 26.82.

Trojan seniors looking to end on high notes

By KELLY TERPSTRA
sports@nhtrib.com

The glare from the sun shining right in your eyes, the wind whipping at your jersey and another cold track meet on the first day of May?

No problem – none at all. Ryan Franzen’s got this. “I just turn my brain off and just ran,” he said.

Franzen – a key member of Mark Scott’s Turkey Valley boys track team – braved the elements on Monday in Calmar. The South Winneshiek Invite was no match for what Franzen – all 6-7 of him – had to offer.

Ditto for his senior teammate – Trojan superstar Noah Hanson.

“I love the grind,” said Hanson, who popped a question to his teammate Chase Hayek after competing in the 4x200 relay on Monday in Calmar.

“And the sun. Chase, could you even see our lanes?” said Hanson.

Hanson barreled on home with his anchor leg in the that aforementioned relay. TV finished first in 1:39.36 – a good second-and-a-half slower than their PR this year with the squad of Troy Schmitt, Hayek, Hanson and Franzen.

“Our times aren’t too much slower today, but the wind’s definitely a factor,” said Hanson about the 30 to 40 mile-per-hour wind on Monday that saw many fans in the stands bundled up and looking to take cover in the mid-50 degree weather.

But these Trojans kept on truckin’.

Franzen rolls down the oval with his long legs – Hanson sprints.

Together they form a potent combo that could make some serious noise later this month at the state track meet.

Franzen and Hanson – two of the better runners in the small-school class in the state of Iowa – are adept in drowning out the noise, aka, distractions that might hold an athlete back.

Trojans’ thrower’s goal is a return to state meet

By KELLY TERPSTRA

Jacqlyn Schmitt has to admit – she was a little starstruck at the state meet last year in Des Moines.

That’s one of the many reasons the Turkey Valley senior discus and shot put thrower wants to get back down to Drake Stadium in Des Moines later this month.

What was perhaps the most memorable moment of her state experience as a Trojan junior tossing the discus in front a large contingent of fans?

Well, of course that would be to compete against the legendary Audi Crooks of Algona Garrigan – the Class 1A state record holder in the shot put and defending champ in the discus.

Schmitt finished second from the bottom in the Class 1A standings in the discus with a toss of 89-6. Abby Squires of Lynnvill-Sully placed 24th overall as she fouled on every attempt.

“At the state meet I threw kind of bad. I was really disappointed about that. But I got to go against Audi Crooks –

It's the 'Drake experience' that matters the most

Rochford competes in four events again, takes fourth in long jump as Chickasaws enjoy successful trip to Des Moines

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

It's the biggest track and field stage in Iowa; after all, the Drake Relays, when it comes to its high school events, is "classless."

That means there are kids from the big schools and the little schools all competing on the same track and on the same field.

And for a second straight season, Carlee Rochford competed in four events at one of the nation's biggest track meets, and if we're being honest here, that's not supposed to happen to an athlete from New Hampton High School.

Yet, after completing a whirlwind couple of days in Des Moines — taking fourth in the long jump Thursday, running a season-best time in the 100 hurdles and tying for seventh in the high jump Friday morning and then joining her teammates in a solid 4x400 Friday night — Rochford may not have shrugged her shoulders, but she was already looking ahead to the Northeast Iowa Conference meet this week and the Class 2A state qualifying meet.

"I guess I always set my goals high," Rochford said, "but right now, I haven't really thought about it, thought about qualifying in four events. I will probably think it was bigger deal when I'm older than I think of it right now. My focus today is on what's ahead, not what happened at Drake."

Her trip to Des Moines started on a high note as she just missed breaking her own school record in the long jump with a leap of 17-8.25, and on Friday, she opened the day with a season-best time of 15.55 to place 16th in the 32-girl field, which was up from her No. 25 seed. Thirty minutes later, and sailed through the first three heights, but 5-6 proved to be a nemesis.

"I thought I had the first one," she said. "I mean it did feel really good, and if I get that, I at least tie for second. Am I disappointed? I always want to go higher, but I can't change anything now."

Her final Drake Relays — as a prep athlete — came to a close when she joined teammates Taylor Ries, Natalie Nosbisch and Hailee Pesek in the 4x400, where the

NEW HAMPTON GIRLS BEGIN ONSLAUGHT OF 18-HOLE MEETS AS POSTSEASON NEARS

By BOB FENSKE
editor@nhtrib.com

If it was up to New Hampton girls golf coach Eric Olson, at least half of his Chickasaws' meets would be 18-hole affairs.

"It's what you play in the regionals, it's what you play at state," he said. "You have to have some 18-hole meets for you to get ready. Anyone who's golfed knows that walking 18 is not walking nine — not even close."

The good news is that the Chickasaws are done playing nine-hole meets. The even better news is that they shined in the final three "short" meets of the 2023 season — picking up Northeast Iowa Conference victories over Waverly-Shell Rock last Thursday, topping Decorah on Friday and then beating Waukon and the wind on Monday.

After taking second to Clear Lake at the Lions' home tournament last Tuesday, New Hampton put together three pretty solid meets — shooting 181 at Waverly, going 186 at Silvercrest in Decorah and then returning home to fire a 191 in conditions that were, to put it mildly, less than ideal.

"Well, we found out we can play in gale force winds," Olson said with a laugh. "The score isn't all that great, but I thought our

Trapshooters look to build on legacy

By KELLY TERPSTRA

Jay Matthews has nine seniors out in 2023 for a New Hampton trapshooting squad that wants to make this season another special year for the Chickasaws.

So far New Hampton has lived up to the high expectations of a program that has finished runner-up in the E-League standings in back-to-back seasons.

Talent hits down clays — but it sure doesn't hurt to have support across the board to get the job done.

"It also helps having the legacy that we do have," said Matthews. "It gives every team, every year, something to strive for. Every day we walk in here and see the trophies on the wall. It's a nice reminder of what people have done before us."

While New Hampton didn't exactly set the Chickasaws shut out twice

By KELLY TERPSTRA
sports@nhtrib.com

The New Hampton Chickasaws are still searching for the back of the net.

After two consecutive shut-outs to NFV and Hudson over the course of the last week — the NH soccer squad is hoping to ignite a spark in its offensive game plan.

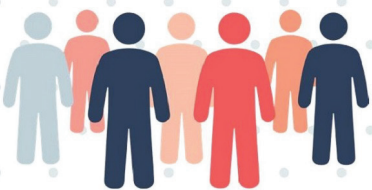

North Fayette Valley blanked NH, 3-0, last week Tuesday at home and Hudson did the same this past Monday by a score of 5-0. The Pirates (7-6) utilized a hat trick (three goals) from freshman Anderson Yoder to claim the victory over the Chickasaws on New Hampton's home field.

NH senior Treyce Orr had three shots on goal in that Hudson matchup. Victor Montiel, another senior for the Chickasaws, had two shots on goal versus NFV (5-6).

New Hampton (5-8) plays at Waterloo West (6-4) tonight.
